Three-Day Program Will Get Under Way Saturday; Pageant and Governor's Day Scheduled.

By SCOTT McMURRAY

Everything is in readiness for the big three day celebration of Morrow county's centennial anniversary Harry E. Nelson, of Mt. Gilead, general chairman of the centennial committee said today. The celebration will begin Saturday and run through Monday.

Starting Saturday morning, general homecoming celebrations will be held in Mt. Gilead, the county seat, and Cardington, Marengo, Chesterville, Johnsville, and Iberia.

Countywide celebrants will converge at the Morrow county fairgrounds at Mt. Gilead at 2:30 p. m. Saturday where carnival rides will be in operation and a pet parade for county children will be held.

At 8 p. m. the same date a "camporee" for all Boy Scouts in the county will be held. At the same hour a horse parade will move through the downtown streets of Mt. Gilead.

At 9 p. m. Saturday night a free public square dance will begin on the city square at Mt. Gilead. Local musicians and entertainers from radio station WRFD, Worthington, will provide the music.

The morning of Sunday, July 4, will see centennial services held in every church in the county. Each minister will preach a sermon based on the history and progress of the county.

At 1 p. m. Sunday afternoon a horse show will be held at the fairgrounds at Mt. Gilead. All classes of horses will be shown.

At 8 p. m. Sunday night the first performance of the centennial pageant portraying the history and progress of the county during the hundred years since its founding will be shown at the fairgrounds. A cast of 400 county citizens will act out the episodes.

Governor To Attend

Monday July 5, will be governor's day, so called because of the presence in Mt. Gilead of Governor Thomas J Herbert.

"Governor's Day" activities will start at 9:30 a. m. with a greased pole climbing contest at the fairgrounds for all children 12 years old and under The event will be sponsored by employes of the Morrow county courthouse and the lucky boy or girl who reaches the top of each greased pole will get a cash prize.

At 11 a.m. a "greased pig" contest will be held when boys and girls from all over the county will gather to catch a well greased shoat, selected as the slipperiest available by the Snyder stockyards at Mt. Gilead. Harold Dewey will judge this contest.

At 1 p. m. Monday the centennial parade will be staged.

Centennial Highlights

In the parade will be Congressman Frederick C. Smith, of Marion, Congressman John Vorhees of Columbus, Congressman Homer Ramey of Toledo, a native son of Morrow county, Col. George Mingle, commander of the state highway patrol, Highway Director Earl Rush, State Representative J. Wesley Masters and other prominent officials. Riding as guests of honor in the parade in a special motorcade of 1948 automobiles will be 100 county residents, all 75 years old or older. It is to this group Governor Herbert will direct his address of the day which will be given from a special rostrum erected in the fairgrounds. The parade, estimated to be five miles long when fully assembled, will start at the city monument at the town square in Mt. Gilead and will move directly to the fairgrounds.

Air Show Outdoor

Republicans have been compelled by two Air Force flying circuses to perform and an Air Force exhibition of equipment to show on Monday. Confirmation received by Chairman Harry Mansfield from Congressman Frederick C. Smith who completed negotiations at Air Force headquarters in Washington, D. C., about Air Force participation in the celebration. A number of Air Force officers, including Lt. Col. Jay Stein, a Caldwell native, will be present. Stein and other officers will be guests of honor at the centennial banquet to be held that night at the Mt. Gilead Methodist church.

Public hearings provisions of the T-E-V bill, calling for closer clearance, construction of five-cent levees and other features, were ripped out by the Republican majority.

Under the bill signed by Mr. Truman, the Reconstruction Finance Corporation is given authority of $5 billion now contingent on appropriation of $1 billion by congress. Funds and other authorizations to be used by RFC, Federal National Mortgage association, Home Loan Bank board, Federal Housing administration and Veterans administration.

WORKERS GET WAGE GAIN IN 7 OHIO CITIES

CIO Unions Reach Agreements on Contracts Calling for Pay Rate Boosts.

By The Associated Press

CIO unions representing workers in seven Ohio cities today had reached agreements on contracts calling for wage increases ranging from seven and one-half cents to 10 cents an hour.

The largest settlement was acceptance by the United Steelworkers of America of the Timken Roller Bearing Co.'s offer of approximately $3,150,000 in back pay and a flat 14-cent-an-hour wage increase on August first.

Other agreements included signing of a two-year contract by the Aluminum Co. of America, providing a 10 per cent boost in the hourly wages of 1,000 employes of the Cleveland plant.

The Lamb-Grays Harbor Co. of Cleveland signed a contract with the Steelworkers' Union, giving 1,000 employes a five cents hourly increase starting next week and an additional 2½ cents an hour from Feb 21 to Sept. 15, 1949.

14,000 Affected

The Timken settlement affects approximately 14,000 factory workers in Canton, Columbus, Wooster, Zanesville and Mount Vernon.

The union's reconsideration of the management offer dispelled the threat of a strike which was expected to follow expiration of a union contract last midnight.

The $3,150,000 fund, a company estimate of the amount which will be needed, will be paid out at the rate of 3½ cents an hour for each hour an employe worked between Dec. 24, 1945, and yesterday, last day of the old contract.

This sum represents settlement of retroactive claims under an old war labor board ruling, which called for correction of wage inequities and set a ceiling of five cents an hour to do the job. Timken and the union had failed in negotiations to settle this matter before.

The 14-cent general boost, which becomes effective today and will give the company approximately an $8,000 a year increase on present employment figures, is a double-eight adjustment.

Wants Off All Claims

In accepting it, the union settled its general increase demand and, in effect, wrote off the books any claims for future inequity adjustments such as the original war labor board decision ordered corrected.

The new pact marked the second straight year that Timken and the union peaceably settled contract and wage issues. The 1947 parleys also ended in a new contract without a strike. In 1946, the contract and wage conferences led to a 58-day strike, longest in Timken's history.

The Aluminum Co. agreement runs to May 19, 1950, and may be reopened next May for renegotiation of the wage clause. The 10 per cent pay boosts means 18 to 19 cents more an hour for ALCOA workers here.

Similar contracts were made by ALCOA last week with the steelworkers, which represent employes of nine other ALOCA plants.

The Cleveland contract was signed with local 700 of the CIO Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers Union, which has voted to secede from the national union and affiliate with the CIO National Association of Die Casting Workers.

Radio License Probe Of U.S. Board To Begin

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 1—A special house committee will begin investigating the Federal Communications commission immediately, Chairman Hartman (R-Ind) announced yesterday.

He also announced appointment of Frank T. Bow, Canton, O., as general counsel.

The inquiry, Hartman said, will center on the granting of radio broadcasting licenses to owners or operators who are alleged to be Communists. The investigation was authorized in the closing hours of the last congress.

DEWEY SPEAKS ON BIPARTISAN POLICY

By The Associated Press

ALBANY, N. Y., July 1—Governor Thomas E. Dewey declared today a United States bipartisan foreign policy to "implode" in 1948 has applied, in the main, only to United Nations' affairs.

At a press conference, the Republican presidential nominee said:

"The bipartisan policy has not applied in the other fields of foreign affairs in most of which there has been no consultation by the administration with the Republican leadership."

He listed "the other fields of foreign affairs" in which he said there had been no consultation with the Republican leadership as the "Greek-Turkish policy which was handed to the American people without consultation, the Potsdam conference and the entire China policy or lack of one."

"I have been discussing the facts and will draw conclusions when the campaign gets under way."

Dewey's statement followed a conference in the executive mansion last night with his foreign affairs adviser, John Foster Dulles.

He said Dulles, a United States delegate to the UN general assembly, had been asked to serve again as a delegate to the assembly meeting in Paris next fall. Dewey said he believed Dulles should accept.

Charges 5,000 Troops In China Massacred

By The Associated Press

NANKING, July 1—A government spokesman charged today that Chinese Communists massacred 5,000 National troops at Kaifeng.

The spokesman, Gen. Tung Yen-Ta, said the 5,000 were massacred on the banks of the Yellow river. The National forces, including Chinese and [illegible] troops, were [illegible] Communists.

GOP HOUSING BILL SIGNED BY TRUMAN

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 1—President Truman today signed a Republican-modified housing bill but said the 80th congress "failed miserably" to enact long-range housing needs.

The President told a news conference the legislation is "practically nothing" at all as a housing bill.

He called it a "botch of political patchwork."

"It was passed by the congress in the final hours of the session, after the Republican leadership refused to permit the house of representatives to vote upon the Taft-Ellender-Wagner housing bill," Mr. Truman said in a formal statement.

Public housing provisions of the T-E-W bill, calling for slum clearance, construction of five-cent levees and other features, were ripped out by the Republican majority.

Under the bill signed by Mr. Truman, the Reconstruction Finance Corporation is given authority of $5 billion now contingent on appropriation of $1 billion by congress. Funds and other authorizations to be used by RFC, Federal National Mortgage association, Home Loan Bank board, Federal Housing administration and Veterans administration.

Truman Fires Three New Blasts at GOP Congress

By The Associated Press

President Truman fired three new broadsides at the Republican-controlled 80th congress as the din of anti-Truman firing within the Democratic party grew louder today.

With his lash behind the departed lawmakers provided the Chief Executive with ammunition for his latest blasts.

He signed appropriations measures for the Tennessee Valley Authority and the interior department, plus a supporting bill dealing with the Virgin Islands—but only after volunteering out especially caustic statements critical of what he regarded as major defects in each one.

Just ahead of that action yesterday, Mr. Truman took time out for a huddle with Democratic National Chairman J. Howard McGrath, who is calling chiefs for the party's convention here to open a week from Monday in Philadelphia.

McGrath told newsmen he and the President "talked about every phase of the Democratic situation currently being talked about in the newspapers."

That seemed to make it clear that the name of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower figured in the White House strategy session.

Talks to Eisenhower

Senator Olin D. Johnston of South Carolina came back from a 45-minute talk with Eisenhower in New York earlier this week to report that he is "more convinced than ever" that the Columbia university president is the Democrats' "best of the lot."

Another southern Democrat, Lt. Gov. Handy Ellis of Alabama, who will head his state's delegation to the Philadelphia convention—said at Mobile earlier in the day he would be "shocked to death" to propose Eisenhower at the start of the convention roll call. But he added that he will yield to Texas—his governor's native state—or to Illinois—his official residence.

Ellis insisted that only an absolute refusal from Eisenhower will prevent his name from being placed before the convention should it vote that way.

Another southern Democrat who has been mentioned as a possible vice presidential nominee, Senator Lister Hill of Alabama, said yesterday he would not be a candidate for re-election to the senate if he is chosen to run with Mr. Truman.

Hill, majority whip of the senate, said he would not be a candidate for re-election "under any circumstances."

Truman's blasts at the GOP congress which has just departed for its summer vacation, were made in connection with his signing of the Tennessee Valley Authority and interior department measures.

He said the TVA bill "contains many provisions which are highly objectionable," and added that the interior department measure "would seriously impair the conservation policies of the United States."

Truman said he signed the bills only because they contained appropriations which are necessary to carry out the functions of the departments involved.

Another message Truman sent to congress yesterday was a request that the Civil Aeronautics board be given authority to investigate all proposed mergers of air transport companies.

Mr. Truman said he is "deeply concerned" over the trend toward consolidation of the airlines.

Saturday—Congress, by cutting down on the money to enforce it by writing in a new job qualification provision for postmaster officials, indicated "an intent to destroy the national merit policy" and will delay improving communication work "in all of the great basin areas of the west."

Virgin Islands—The President said the bill to extend the life of the Virgin Islands Company, an interior department agency designed to promote the economic welfare of the islands, is a step which does little to raise the standard of living in the islands.

But while Mr. Truman was finding new fault with congress, Rep. Hugh D. Scott of Pennsylvania was telling reporters at Philadelphia he regards his designation as Republican national chairman as a new compliment to the lawmakers' record.

Scott said his party will conduct one of the "cleanest campaigns in history" in behalf of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York and Earl Warren of California.

Warren took a midnight plane back to California to end his four-day visit to New York City.

Mrs. Roosevelt OK As Running Mate

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 1—President Truman predicted victory over Gov. Dewey-Warren ticket in 1948 today and said Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt would be an acceptable running mate.

Mr. Truman described as foolish question number one a reporter's inquiry as to whether he would withdraw from the race.

The President then replied he would get the Democratic presidential nomination on the first ballot at the national convention meeting in Philadelphia July 12.

Mr. Truman told a round-the-news conference that he was not worried by talk of a southern revolt against him.

Killed in Crash

S/Sgt. McGinnis, 23 years of age at the time of his death, was killed in action in the European theater on Sept. 26, 1945 in the mid-air crash of two planes after successfully completing his thirteenth mission. He was a ball turret gunner aboard a Flying Fortress. S/Sgt. McGinnis enlisted in the Army on Sept. 16, 1941, at Ft. Hayes in Columbus. Immediately after his induction he was transferred to Jefferson Barracks, Mo. Later he was transferred to Lowry Field at Denver, Colo., where he graduated from armament school. For a short period he was assigned to an Army air base at Sacramento, Calif., and then was transferred to the Las Vegas, Nevada, Army Air base where in March of 1942 he graduated from the aerial gunnery school. He then received further training at Salt Lake City, Utah, Ephrata and Spokane, Wash., Great Falls, Mont., and Kearney, Neb. S/Sgt. McGinnis went overseas in June, 1943.

S/Sgt. McGinnis was graduated from Harding High school with the class of 1939, and at the time of his enlistment he was in charge of the meat department in the Kline department store. He was a member of Emanuel Lutheran church.

Surviving besides his parents are three brothers, Lt. Warren McGinnis, stationed at the Air Transport Command at Fairfield, Calif., John McGinnis, who just recently completed his first year at Miami university after serving during World War II, and

U.S.S. WISCONSIN IS RECOMMISSIONED

By The Associated Press

PORTSMOUTH, Va., July 1—They put the battleship Wisconsin in mothballs today.

"Lower the commission pennant," ordered Capt. J. M. Higgins of Madison, Wis., skipper of the 45,000 ton ship. "Haul down the colors."

Thus officially the Wisconsin was decommissioned and became a unit of the Norfolk group, Atlantic reserve fleet. The ceremony was held on the ship's fantail before her greatly reduced complement of 600 officers and men. The ship is berthed at the Norfolk Naval shipyard, her decks and bulkheads swathed in preservatives.

The Wisconsin was decommissioned at the Philadelphia navy yard, April 16, 1944.

Helicopter To Keep Holiday Drivers Out of Traffic Jams

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO June 30—An "eye in the sky" will guide homebound motorists in the area at the tail end of the July 4 double holiday.

They will get reports of road conditions via radio from the crew of a helicopter.

The flyers will move back and forth over the outer rim of the city. They will warn drivers against highways that are jammed and advise them to shift to others where the streams of cars are moving faster.

The plan was put to work May 31 by radio station WMAQ. Thousands of Chicagoans were homebound from Memorial day outings in four states. This is how it worked.

Deputy Sheriff Robert Clithero a traffic specialist and Dick Griffin a pilot went up in a chartered helicopter. They shuttled over a half moon course from Highland park in the northern part of the metropolitan region to Gary, Ind. on the south.

The air scouts were on the job from mid-afternoon to dark. They came down at times to telephone their observations to the radio station. The information was broadcast. It was aimed at raising in lake resorts and automobiles in a 400 mile radius.

Here's a sample of what the listeners heard:

"Traffic is thinning out on route 21 northwest of the city. Skokie highway is considerably busier.

"A bottleneck has developed outside of Gary, Ind. where routes 12 and 20 join. Motorists will be better off if they swing south to routes 6 or 30.

"West of Chicago routes 66 and 45 are really tied up. You are advised to cut off to Ogden avenue on Wolf road. Willow Springs road or other side trail.

WMAQ plans to repeat the "bird's eye" service July 3 and Labor day if the channel can be cleared by then. The helicopter will keep in touch with the station by short wave radio instead of telephone.

"In my opinion the helicopter has unlimited possibilities," says Sheriff Elmer Michael Walsh. "I can envision the day when this type of equipment will be considered standard by most sheriffs and police departments throughout the country."

Advises Soothing Tone To Patch Up Quarrels

SHRINE NO. 15 MARKS 31ST ANNIVERSARY

Celebration Held Monday in Masonic Temple.

The 31st anniversary of Marion Shrine No. 15, White Shrine of Jerusalem, was celebrated at a meeting of the Shrine Monday night in the Masonic Temple. Charter members and past officers were honored on the occasion of the anniversary.

Charter members present were Mrs. Charlotte Rush, first worthy high priestess and organizer of the Shrine, Miss Hortense Fee, Mrs. Anna Waters, Mrs. Fern Little, Mrs. Laura Midgley, Mrs. Rose Helwig, Mrs. Lena Wilson, Mrs. May Herd and Mrs. Eve Hunter.

Mrs. Rush was presented a bouquet of red roses from the Shrine, and each charter member was presented a corsage.

The program included numbers by Mrs. Eve Hunter, Mrs. Vera Koons, Miss Jean Lawrence and Miss Florence Hayes, and a brief history of the Supreme Shrine and Marion Shrine was given. Guests were present from Ashland and Prospect.

Refreshments were served at a U-shaped table decorated with garden flowers and pink and white crepe paper. The charter members were presented a three-tiered birthday cake.

Amended and revised by-laws were voted on by the Shrine. The next meeting will be Sept. 13 at which time a homecoming will be held at a potluck supper will precede the meeting.

Norton WSCS Meets With Mrs. Jean Norris

A meeting of the Norton WSCS was held Thursday at the home of Mrs. Jean Norris. Mrs. Amber Norris assisted the hostess. The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Bernice Howald and was opened with the group singing "Help Somebody Today." Scripture was read by Mrs. Ola Stevens and a prayer was offered by Rev. C. E. Turley. Minutes were read by the secretary, Mrs. Neoma Payne.

During a short business session it was decided that members of the Service and their families would have a picnic supper in August. A book review later from "The Methodist Woman" was given by Mrs. La Vera Reichard, president of the Junction in Green Camp.

arranging of the coming year. Next Time Every Hour.

The meeting was attended by 34 members and guests including Rev. and Mrs. C. E. Turley of Waldo, Mrs. Grant Augenstein, Mrs. Mary [illegible] and Mrs. J. C. Stevens of Marion, Mrs. Ray Miller of Morral and Mrs. Floyd Wallace of Meeker. Mrs. Pauline Rogers will be hostess for the next meeting at her home July 29.

LAMBDA CHI OMEGA MEETS

Mrs. Henry W. Schuler was hostess for a social meeting of Beta Gamma chapter of Lambda Chi Omega sorority Tuesday evening at her home at 370 Mary street. Awards in bowling went to Mrs. Billie Johnston, Miss Roberta Manzo and Mrs. Quayle Giles. The next meeting will be a picnic supper to be at the home of Mrs. [illegible]

OLD SENATE PALS OF TRUMAN WONDERING

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 1—Four senators who helped Harry Truman move from the senate to the White House by way of the vice presidency are wondering today whether he will remember them.

The four will go to the Democratic convention in Philadelphia July 12 determined to give another hand to their former lawmaking crony in his fight to capture the presidential nomination. Then their respective friends will boom them for the No 2 spot on the ticket.

They are in order of seniority

1 Alban W Barkley of Kentucky who will keynote the convention as he did in 1932 and 1936. He has been listed as a vice presidential possibility so many times that he tells jokes about it

2 Joseph C O'Mahoney of Wyoming who claims wide support among westerners organized labor and small business. His delegation is instructed to toss his name into the vice presidential contest

3 Millard E Tydings of Maryland who also carries home state support from an instructed delegation. The Maryland slogan is "T 'N T—that's dynamite"

4 Scott L. Lucas of Illinois who represents one of the many big industrial centers that experts say the Democrats must hold or recapture if they are to win

All four threw their support behind Mr Truman at Chicago four years ago after President Roosevelt came up with the Missouri senator's name as a personal choice to share the ticket with him

While each is slated for attention at Philadelphia in his own right, there appears to be little doubt that if the President cops the first prize he will have a big say about his running mate

The potato is a native of South America and was found in North America as early as the 16th Century.

DISCOVER HOT LAYER OF ATOMS IN SKY

By RENNIE TAYLOR
Associated Press Science Reporter

PASADENA, Calif., July 1—A band of hot atoms somewhere between 60 and 600 miles above the earth, through which rockets to the moon or the planets would have to travel, is being investigated by scientists with Navy support.

How this layer of atoms would affect space ships is not yet known, but the facts must be learned before earthlings will have a clear understanding of what they must contend with in inter-planetary travel.

Dr. Franklin E. Roach, one of the scientists working on the problem at the Naval ordnance testing station at Inyokern, Calif. told the American Astronomical society today about the setting up of the first station in this country for intensive study of the layer.

The station is on Atlas mountain near Mt Whitney Calif highest peak in the United States. There researchers train spectroscopes and light meters on patches of sky which contain no visible stars. They measure the amount and nature of light coming from the faint glow of this atom layer which is called the permanent aurora.

The permanent aurora, Dr Roach said is responsible for five-sixths of the light of the sky on moonless nights. The stars are responsible for the other sixth. Sometimes the glow can be seen with the naked eye as a slight blue-green luminosity.

Even better observations have been made from a fast Navy bomber flying as high as 26,000 feet, Dr Roach reported.

At that height, the observers were half way through the atmospheric curtain and the aurora light was stronger because of less interferance from particles in the air.

LIGHTNING KILLS COW

ASHLEY—Discovered this week upon the return of the Donald Westbrook family to their home on the Oxford-Joint county line road, a valuable Guernsey cow was killed by lightning, apparently sometime during a storm last Saturday night. The cow had fallen with her back against a large oak tree the tree was scorched and will probably not leaf again. In the same field with the cow were 12 heifers, but none of them were near the victim. The loss of the cow is partially covered by insurance.

DEATHS and FUNERALS

Louis Lardinois

Louis Lardinois, 76, of 223 East Washington avenue died at 3:30 a. m. today in City hospital after an illness of five months. He was admitted to the hospital Wednesday forenoon.

Born May 5, 1872, in Illinois, he was a son of Felix and Sophie Duga Lardinois, natives of Canada. June 4 1896, he married Augusta Peters in Chicago. She died nine years ago. A resident of Marion since 1940, Mr Lardinois, a retired shoe merchant, came here from Chicago. He was a member of St. Mary Catholic church.

Surviving are children, Mrs Frank Bradley of the East Washington avenue address, Mrs. Helen Stumpf of Athens, Ga., and Louis W Lardinois of Pontiac, Ill and a sister, Mrs. Celina Walters of Berwyn Ill.

Funeral services will be conducted Saturday at 9:30 a. m. in St. Mary church by the Very Rev William J Spickerman, V F, pastor. Burial will be in St. Mary cemetery. Friends may call at the L. A. Axe and Son funeral home on Mt Vernon avenue after 7:30 tonight.

Harvester Co. Strike, Wage Dispute, Ended

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, July 1—The International Harvester company and the CIO United Farm Equipment Workers settled a lengthy wage dispute last night 48 hours after a strike by some 35,000 union members in nine of the company's plants.

The new contract, providing for a wage increase of 11 cents an hour and retention of provisions in the old contract, will be submitted for approval today at the union headquarters in Chicago.

An early return to work was expected.

THURSDAY, JULY 1, 1948

Let's Start Right

LOCAL draft boards soon will be convening to make decisions important to many young men. Their members undertake a thankless job as they fulfill an obligation of citizenship.

The task can and should be made easier this time by directives that will not be superseded and cannot be misconstrued. Vague directives subject to varying interpretation were one of the great drawbacks of the World War II draft system. At times state and national headquarters seemed to be working at cross-purposes.

This situation needn't be repeated. This time the draft will be on a smaller scale. Wartime urgency will be lacking. There is plenty of precedent upon which to base procedure. Hard and fast rules can be set up to be followed without deviation.

Draft board service can never be an unalloyed pleasure but firm directives can ease the task. A judge doesn't have to consult a set of revised statutes each time court convenes. Draft board members, who also sit in judgement, deserve the same break.

Tito May Prove Tough

FIRST indications from Yugoslavia are that Marshal Tito isn't going to hold still while the cominform pins its indictment on him. Instead of servilely confessing his guilt after the usual manner of Communist scapegoats, Tito remained silent, but from his capital came charges of cominform lies and slander.

It could be that the cominform has underestimated Tito. The belligerent, bemedalled dictator may be just as willing to rattle his sabre in the direction of Moscow as Washington. If this is the case, cominform has made a grievous error that will necessitate a major job of face-saving.

The real reason for the blast against Tito hasn't become apparent. The eight so-called specifications in the cominform's charge are so vague as to say nothing except that the Communist hierarchy is displeased with him.

Tito's fall from grace and the recent rebuke Ana Pauker, Romania's foreign minister, as Moscow gave Bulgaria's Premier Dimitrov leave perhaps the leading Communist outside Russia. She has long been an advocate of the incorporation of all eastern Europe into the Soviet Union, a move unlikely to inspire enthusiasm in the nationalistic Tito. This would account for the restrictions and even hostile treatment accorded Russian specialists who had been sent into Yugoslavia to organize the country for Russia's benefit.

Pattern for Improvement

SEVEN states—Indiana, West Virginia, New York, Illinois, Kentucky, Pennsylvania, Virginia, and Ohio—have signed a pact to get rid of pollution in the Ohio river. Three commissioners and a representative of the federal government have been named to administer this important agreement to conserve one of the nation's most valuable resources.

It has been a long, hard row to hoe—and it isn't hoed yet. But a pattern for improvement has been created. Congress in the session just closed authorized future appropriations to help state and local government clean up stream pollution by means of grants, loans and establishment of research facilities.

Public opinion is coming around to the point of view that conservation takes precedence over a wide variety of anti-social practices once tolerated in the name of expediency. It may be expedient for a community to dump untreated sewage into a stream. But it ceases to be expedient when enough people who are opposed to such things get their heads together and decide to do something about it. That is happening in the Ohio valley. The omen for improvement is good.

Air Mail Rates

THE postal pay increase approved by the 80th congress also calls for an increase in rates, notably that for airmail which becomes six cents an ounce Jan. 1.

The postoffice shows a deficit of $19,000,000 on airmail service because it subsidizes the airlines at rates prescribed by them.

Actually there is no breakdown of the $19,000,000 as to what represents subsidy and what represents the cost of flying the mail. Without the subsidies it is probable the postoffice would be turning a profit on airmail.

The Jan. 1 raise will be the fifth airmail rate change since 1939. Before the war the rate was 6 cents, during the war 8. Since then it has been 6, then 5 cents. The bookkeeping methods by which the airline subsidies are paid aren't of public concern, but postage rates should be fairly stable—far more so than air rates have been in the last decade.

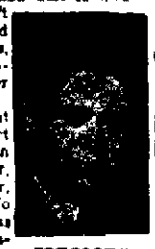
Scanning the Record

By George E. Sokolsky

Taft Loses Nomination but Still Ranks as Leader.

FEW men in American political life are as beloved by those who know them as Senator Robert A. Taft, who lost the nomination for the presidency of the Republican ticket. For nearly a year, in spite of accelerated excitement for such aspirants as Harold Stassen and Arthur Vandenberg, this column has constantly maintained that it would be either Taft or Dewey, and there never was, at the convention, any other possibility.



SOKOLSKY

Taft's defeat will not affect his leadership in the senate or, for that matter, in congress. No one questions his intellectual capacity, his personal integrity or his general competence. Even his opponents admit these qualities. Yet Taft has never been able to translate his virtues into a leadership over large enough numbers of the rank and file of his own party. Like Henry Clay, Daniel Webster and Elihu Root, he achieves every success but the presidency.

His failure was due to several causes, principally an inadequate campaign organization and a fear that he would not do well enough to pull them through in marginal districts.

Dewey's campaign management was superb. His three managers, Herbert Brownell Jr., J. Russel Sprague and Edwin Jaeckle, moved without friction or wasted motion. Stassen and Vandenberg had smooth, mechanical organizations, although both suffered from caginess. Taft's, on the other hand, was too rough and tumble, too unsure.

Bad Management

For instance, the Taft organization let it be believed that he would open with about 350 votes; that figure never appeared. The Dewey people said that they would make it but gave no figure. Either the Taft people were too optimistic or they did not know. That is bad management.

This weakness could have been overcome were it not that this convention contained an extraordinary number of candidates for local office and for congress. Many districts are, for Republicans, marginal; that is, they can be won only if the top of the ticket gets so large a vote that he pulls everyone along with him. These candidate-delegates were worried last, with Taft as the nominee, they would be left behind in every delegation. Such persons fought Taft. They were really protecting what they thought were their own interests, although some of them were pro-Taft, as they told me.

Whether their judgment was sound or not they were not willing to take the risk. Dewey was, throughout the convention, regarded as the best vote-getter. Many mutual friends had hoped that Taft and Dewey would make an automatic agreement as to which would be the candidate after the second ballot. At no time was there any agreement between them in spite of the numerous stories to the contrary. This was an error on Taft's part.

Taft also erred in the last days of the convention by joining the "hold the line" of the anti-Dewey forces organized by Governor Duff of Pennsylvania, whose brain-truster was Harry Lore. Taft had no business being in this because it was aimed at him. The objective of the "hold the line" was first to stop Dewey and then to kill off Taft. It was really an anti-Taft move designed to achieve the nomination of Vandenberg on a Vandenberg-Stassen ticket. This was to be accomplished, in spite of Vandenberg's poor showing in the convention, by a mechanical process of elimination. Taft discovered what his "friends" were doing to him.

Mutual Respect

Fortunately, Taft and Dewey respect each other and nothing in the convention occurred to destroy their friendship. The stories that went the rounds that Dewey was buying delegates by promise is, of course, untrue. The Dewey management was extraordinarily careful not to get caught in any mesh of that sort, for promises made must be kept and no one can know in June what he will need or want to do in January. Therefore, the Dewey people made no promises but trusted to the normal human instinct of going along with one who appears to be the winner.

Taft then has no cause for personal antagonism to Dewey and Dewey will remember that it was the Vandenberg and not the Taft group that forced the unnecessary and unpleasant postponement after the second ballot. Taft stands out a gentleman and a good sport.

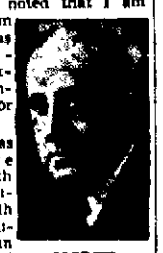
Dewey and Roosevelt

By Raymond Moley

THIS writer has had the somewhat unusual privilege of working with both Roosevelt and Dewey in more than one political campaign. Their methods suggest many comparisons which reveal some distinct similarities and more dissimilarities. It is clear that Dewey if elected will, like Roosevelt, be a strong and positive political leader. Time will tell how well Dewey will succeed, but there can be no doubt that he will bring to the job methods and qualities which will occupy the interest of political students for years to come.

It should be noted that I am describing them here solely as political managers, not as makers of government policies or party ideology.



MOLEY

Roosevelt was always more concerned with political organization than with ideas and policies. He was an activist. He loved people, especially political people. He largely delegated the preliminary formulation of policies to others, and when those policies were brought in, he judged them on a political background. Was this the time to advocate this or that? What effect would this or that have on the campaign?

Roosevelt was quick to grasp an idea and excellent in his power of analysis. Moreover, when he accepted a policy, he knew how to dramatize it. But all through the years, especially during the years before he was governor of New York, he spent much more time in establishing and securing contacts throughout the country than in studying economic and social problems. And in his campaigns he carefully directed every move of his political managers.

Dewey Like That

Dewey, too, is like that. His managers — Jaeckle, Brownell, Sprague and Lockwood—are of his own choosing. He spends hours with them discussing strategy, and the final decision is always Dewey's. He lacks the personal warmth and liking for people in politics which distinguished Roosevelt, but he is a better and quicker judge of their character and motives. He has a capacity for driving questions at a man that is often mistaken for hostility. This method is not meant to offend. It springs from a genuine desire to get the right answers. He will knock down a proposition with seeming finality, but only for the purpose of making the proposer give better reasons. His intimates know this and litterally dig to the marrow of their brains to defend what they propose. When the decision is made, Dewey therefore has the best possible reasons for making it and th best means of defending it.

Dewey Works Harder

Dewey is a harder worker than was Roosevelt. He relaxes less and cannot so easily turn to diversion. He has few hobbies. His mind is vastly more organized than was Roosevelt's. The great generalities of Roosevelt, which were never spelled out, would have been carefully appraised word for word by Dewey. They would have been more accurately phrased, but perhaps not so seductively.

The new national chairman, Hugh D. Scott Jr., is going to find not only that he is going to work harder than he ever dreamed he would, but that somebody else will be a real chairman of the board. That will be Dewey himself.

Jeweler Built Locomotives

From C. & O. Tracks.

WHILE trains on a well-organized rail system run like clockwork, few people would think that there could ever have been any possible connection between the jeweler's trade and locomotive manufacture. But the founder of the Baldwin Locomotive Works was a jeweler and this is how that industrial empire got its start.

Matthias W. Baldwin a Philadelphia jeweler, was one of the first Americans to study the mechanics of the John Bull, a locomotive imported from England. He got an order from Philadelphia Museum to build a miniature locomotive. On April 25, 1831 his model was put through its paces on a tiny circular track in the museum and was a complete success. It hauled a little train of coaches, with four passengers in each car.

This well-advertised stunt soon brought the enterprising jeweler a commission from the newly founded Philadelphia, Germantown & Norristown Railroad for a full-scale loco. Other orders followed and it wasn't long till Baldwin had no time for watches and rings.

The early railroad officials who bought their motive power from the Philadelphia jeweler either placed a singularly high value on his product or thought of his output in the same category as fine but fragile timepieces. In 1834, for instance, newspaper advertisements warned: "The locomotive, by M. W. Baldwin, of this city, will depart daily when the weather is fair, with a train of passenger cars. On racing days horses will be attached."

From News of Other Years

TEN YEARS AGO

It was Friday, July 1, 1938.

Indians climbed jagged, knife-like Sandia peak, near Albuquerque, N. M. to return the body of Medill McCormick, 21-year-old scion of a politico-publishing family. McCormick, in company with Richard Whitmer, 20, started on a mountain-climbing expedition June 22. The body of his companion was found the preceding Friday.

Vetalis H. Kling, 73, last member of the family of Mrs. Warren G. Harding died at his home on Ballentine avenue.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. John W. Moser of North State street.

Fred L. White was elected chancellor commander at the semi-annual election of officers held by Marion Lodge No. 402 Knights of Pythias.

Dan Cupid fell short of his 1937 record in the number of marriage licenses for the month of June. Thirty licenses were issued and 26 couples were married during the month, the records in probate court showed. Fourteen divorce actions were heard, 13 of which were granted and one was dismissed.

Mrs. M. C. Murphy and Miss Jean Willoughby were guests when the Criterion Bridge met with Mrs. C. E. Willoughby of Seffner avenue.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

It was Sunday, July 1, 1928.

Martin Vergurg was appointed superintendent of the First Presbyterian Sunday school to succeed Douglas Torrance who had moved to Huntington, W. Va. Mr. Verburg had been teacher of the Men's class for five years.

The second of the series of union church services arranged for the summer, was held at Calvary Evangelical church with Dr. B. L. George, Epworth M. E. pastor, preaching on "America for Christ."

A company of relatives attended a dinner given for A. E. Middleton at his home on Sheridan road in celebration of his fiftieth birthday anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Schindler of Irey avenue returned home from Urbana after a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Earl Schindler.

Municipal Court Bailiff D. Scott Belt and Mrs. Belt returned from a two week's vacation at Long K. Lake, Mich.

Organization of a city young people's church union was effected at a meeting at Calvary Evangelical church. Seven of the nine young people's groups in the city which had been taking part in union church services were enrolled. Miss Norma Porter of Trinity Baptist church was elected president.

Food Behind the Iron Curtain

By Richard Kasischke

BERLIN

AN American congressman visiting Germany last summer remarked: "It seems we feed the Germans food to keep them alive while the Russians feed them propaganda."

In recent weeks the Russians for the first time have felt obliged to bring in food to combat a German hunger crisis in their occupation zone.

In doing so they gave the Americans and British — who have spent billions feeding Germany and the world—an object lesson on how to make propaganda with food shipments.

With great fanfare the Russians announced they were importing 40,000 tons of bread and fodder grains from the Soviet Union for eastern Germany. Previously they not only had been feeding their occupation army, the largest in Germany, off the German economy, but had been sending food from Germany to the Soviet Union.

Meanwhile, the United States and Britain have been importing from 300,000 to 500,000 tons of grain each month to keep Berlin and western Germany alive. In addition, U. S. citizens, by military government estimate, have been sending in more than a million parcel post relief packages monthly at a cost of about $10,000,000. This is exclusive of other gift packages and bulk relief shipments by American relief agencies a large portion of which goes to aid Germans in Russian-occupied territory.

These American gifts are never mentioned in the preponderant section of the German press controlled by the Russians. They get only small notice in newspapers licensed by the American and British military governments, which do not dictate what their editors should publish.

The Russian food contribution was not a gift, but had to be paid for from German exports. However, when the Russian food ships came in, there was a tremendous propaganda splash. For days the newspapers heralded their arrival in German Baltic ports.

When the ships arrived there were broadcasts and pictures of Germany Communist leaders receiving the Russian crews and dock workers unloading the grain. The same publicity followed trains bearing the grain to Berlin, Dresden and other inland cities.

Then followed a series of "thank you" articles and letters in the press. Berlin's socialist press claimed that the grateful "letters to the editor" were written by the Communist editors to themselves. The socialists claim this is standard practice in the Russian zone.

No Business Letdown Seen

Reserve Board Says Profits Will Continue.

THE Federal Reserve Board says 1948 business profits are "likely to be larger" than in 1947.

As a result, the board says in its monthly bulletin, cash dividends probably will be higher. The board also looks for undistributed profits to continue high and business borrowing through new securities and bank loans to increase.

"The financial position of business corporations as a group today is still strong," the bulletin says. "The very high dollar volume of sales of the past two years has been accompanied by an unusually large volume of profits since profit margins have generally been maintained."

The board compiled data from the published reports of 200 of the largest manufacturing corporations in the country. They showed according to the board:

"The average (median) profit after income taxes (and other costs) was 7.8 cents per dollar of sales in 1947 and 7.2 cents in 1938 . . .

"Estimates for all corporations as a group indicate an even more favorable comparison of current with prewar profit margins. This is due primarily to the exceptionally small number of unprofitable companies in business today as contrasted to prior years."

We will surely find trouble if we look for it. Seek peace and pursue it. You can surely attain it. Then hold fast to it.—Isa. 32: 18. "My people shall abide in a peaceful habitation, and in sure dwellings, and in quiet resting places."

BEFORE THE FLOOD

One civilization buries another. Often the debris of one culture protects the evidences of a previous one. Lakes have been drained to reveal relics of the past. A reversal of that procedure is the scientific exploration of sites of ancient Indian occupation along the Savannah River in anticipation of building dams that will cover the locations—presumably until archaeologists begin poking among the ruins of the American culture. —OSU Science and Appliance.

In the Dumps

By TRUMAN TWILL

A TALENT for winding up at the city dump instead of the right end of town may not be much—but it's a talent.

This writer has it. He promises to show a visiting dignitary the sights of the village and winds up in a gravel pit. He aims for the breath-taking vistas of the high-mortgage sections and quickly finds himself in the low-rent district.

Without benefit of compass, street signs or the slightest intention in the world he can get on the other side of the tracks in less time than it takes to ask, "Would you like to see where the other 95 per cent of the people live?"

The same talent for showing off what's better left unshown is responsible, under somewhat different circumstances, for finding abandoned coal mines, worked-out gravel pits, abandoned stone quarries, eroding spoil banks, obscure shanty-town settlements, gangster hideouts, pest houses (now almost extinct) and car barns in large cities without half trying.

There's nothing to it—just the knack of taking the wrong turn every time there's a choice until finally the city dump, the car barns or whatever it is looms dead ahead. Some people infallibly seek out the best. This writer infallibly finds the worst.

During a series of recent automobile tours to take in nearby sights, this instinct was responsible for:

17 dumps, ranging from full-fledged city dumps to rural dumps situated at the dead end of deadend roads.

3 abandoned coal mines situated at the ends of several times that any roads which conceivably might have led to scenes of breath-taking beauty.

4 spoil banks—3 representing strip mines 1 representing a tile factory.

4 front yards of remotely situated farmhouses suitable for housing gangs of desperate characters, samples of which stood about the premises while the trespassers turned around and got out of there in a hurry.

2 stone quarries filled with water deep enough to cover a carelessly handled automobile.

3 brick and tile plants with roads that led interminably on and on, until they whammed into a cable stretched across the right of way.

2 slaughterhouses, with sound effects.

4 underprivileged areas in which auto-borne intruders had a choice between abandoning the vehicle and trying to turn it around at the risk of running over the inhabitants.

Innumerable road blocks, detours, washboarded stretches of gravel, automobile graveyards, coal yards, lumber yards—so many, in fact, that the other evening when it was mentioned that the time had come for another one of these little tours to nearby points of interest the tourists rose as a man and said bitterly, "We've seen every dump for miles. We prefer to stay here and enjoy this one."

Guests in addition to those already named were Miss Catherine Taylor, Misses Gloria and Norma Jean Kehrwecker, Miss Katherine Bolander, Mrs Patricia Key and Mrs Myrtle Gantt.

Couple Marks Golden Wedding With Dinner

THE golden wedding anniversary of Mr and Mrs Harry E Johnston of 423 Girard avenue was celebrated Tuesday evening with a dinner at the home of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr and Mrs Clayborne W Smoot of South Vine street. Covers were placed for 22 relatives and friends of the celebrants.

A tiered wedding cake decorated in gold and white and crystal candelabra holding gold-colored candles centered the table and place cards were small gold mint cups. Vases of flowers, gifts of friends, decorated the livingroom.

Mr and Mrs Johnston were married June 29, 1898 in the home of Mrs Johnston's grandparents, Mr and Mrs Hiram Knowles south of Kirkpatrick by Rev E J Skidmore, pastor of the Christian church in Marion.

Mrs Johnston who is 73 years old is the daughter of Mr and Mrs Henry Knowles, natives of Marion county. Mr Johnston, 79 is the son of Mr and Mrs Thomas Fleming Johnston, natives of Crawford county. Both are active and in fairly good health.

Two of the five children of Mr and Mrs Johnston are living. They are Mrs Smoot and Thomas Johnston of Bucyrus. They also have four grandchildren, Clayborne W Smoot Jr, Patricia Jane Smoot, Linda Sue Johnston and Thomas Fleming Johnston and one great-grandchild, Jeffry Smoot son of Mr and Mrs Clayborne W Smoot Jr.

Mrs Johnston has a brother, Floyd Knowles and a sister, Mrs C L Baker, both of Kirkpatrick. Mr Johnston also has one sister, Mrs Jennie J Raymore of Pharisburg and a brother, David Johnston of Bucyrus.

MARRIED AT RICHWOOD

RICHWOOD—First Methodist church was decorated with seven branch candelabra, palms, huckleberry foliage and white gladioli for the marriage last Sunday of Miss Marilyn Winter to Mr George William Zuspan, son of Mr and Mrs I G Zuspan. The bride is the daughter of Mr and Mrs Harold Winter. The Rev E. B Brewster officiated at the 4:30 p m ceremony. Miss Lena Chilsa served as the bride's only attendant. Best man for Mr Zuspan was his brother, Frederick Zuspan, and ushers were Robert Milligan and Robert Davis. Preceding the ceremony organ nuptial music was played by Mrs. Charles Gill. Miss Janet Zuspan, sister of the groom sang.

Mr and Mrs Jean Hickman of Star Route and Mr and Mrs G C Chambers of near New Bloomington visited Sgt H H Hickman son of Mr and Mrs Hickman and his wife the former Miss Mary Chambers, daughter of Mr and Mrs Chambers at Salina, Kan. Following they proceeded to Canyon City, Colo. where they viewed Royal Gorge. Returning, they visited Boss Team at Omaha, Neb. They left here June 21 and arrived home last Monday night.

Weddings

West Park Methodist church in Columbus was the scene of the wedding of Miss Alice George, daughter of Rev and Mrs William George of Columbus and Emerson Roush, son of Mrs James Roush of Lancaster Sunday June 6. The bride's family formerly resided in Marion during Rev George's pastorate at Wesley Methodist church.

The double ring ceremony was read by the bride's father assisted by Rev George Held, pastor of the First Methodist church of Lancaster. Music was by Donald Preuninger, brother in law of the bride of Marion, soloist and Donald George, the bride's brother of New Orleans, La., organist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a dress of white slipper satin with a fitted bodice with lace insertions in the yoke and sleeves. The full skirt swept into a wide circular train. Her veil edged in lace was held by a bonnet of lace and she carried a white Bible with streamers of stephanotis centered with a purple orchid.

Mrs Donald Preuninger of Marion, sister of the bride was matron of honor. She wore peach net fashioned with a fitted bodice and full skirt. She carried a bouquet of yellow roses. Miss Ruth Roush of Lancaster, sister of the bridegroom, and Mrs. John Lodwig of Marion were bridesmaids. They wore identical gowns of orchid and nile green marquisette with head pieces of matching material. Each carried bouquet of roses and carnations. Mary Ann Wolfe of Lancaster O. was flower girl.

Dan Gilkey of Lancaster was best man and seating the guests were William Wilson Wendell Carpenter and Maynard McClurg all of Lancaster and Earl Shepherd of Washington D C.

Following the ceremony a reception was held for 150 guests at the home of the bride's parents.

Later the couple left on a trip to the east. For traveling the

SCHOOL PLANS SPECIAL CLASS

Hard of Hearing Children To Be Given Instruction in Next Term.

Through the cooperation of the division of special education of the state department of education and the Marion board of education a class for the hard of hearing boys and girls of Marion will be opened at George Washington school at the beginning of the 1948-1949 school year. The announcement was made today by L. L. Dusty, superintendent of schools.

This program will be carried on in addition to the crippled and sight-saving classes which have been in effect at this building for the past several years.

To Be Given Test

Any child entering this class must first be given an audiometer test by the school nurse Mrs Inez Kraner Sycks or an otologist Results of this test are then sent to the state department for approval

To be eligible for this class a child must be enrolled in grades 1 to 6 inclusive during the school year 1948-1949

Transportation to and from school and a hot dish and milk will be furnished. The children will bring sandwiches and fruit for their noon lunch This has been the practice in the other classes

Instruction in speech and lip reading and special help in regular classroom subjects will be given by Miss Jean Witt, who has been employed to teach this class. At this time she is receiving special instruction in this work at Western Reserve university, Cleveland. She is a graduate of Bowling Green State university and has been teaching in the Marion school system for the past 10 years.

Redecorate Room

The room in which this class will be held is being redecorated and equipped by the division of special education. The special equipment includes a group hearing aid with microphones, record player and radio attached. The use of the microphone is to teach the child the sound of his own voice Special records are available and will be used to teach speech. The radio is used so that a child, who perhaps has never heard music, will develop a sense of rhythm.

Any person knowing of a child having deficient hearing who would be eligible by age for this class are asked to call the superintendent's office 5284.

Pageant To Depict Outstanding Events In Morrow County's 100-Year History

By SCOTT McMURRAY

When the centennial pageant celebrating the first century of Morrow county's existence is performed Sunday night, many incidents portrayed will come as a surprise to residents of the county.

Incidents portrayed in the pageant were gleaned from studies of history books of Morrow county and of historians of Ohio compiled by Howard Clapper of the Morrow Rural Electric Cooperative Inc. Additional information for the pageant and for this article were supplied by Terry Griffith, editor of the Morrow County Sentinel.

Morrow county's present appearance as a scene of industry and agricultural endeavor has not always so.

The first settlers in the territory now Morrow county were the Jaun Holt who built a home on Owl Creek valley and started clearing a farm in what is now Chester township. He was followed into that area by numerous pioneers, mostly settlers of Welsh descent and by 1818 there were enough residents in Chester township for a marriage. The Chester settlement was near of Robert Morgan and Jane Wilson. Mary Morgan was to be the county's first marriage.

Church Built in 1816

In 1816 the first church was organized in the Chesterville settlement with 20 members and the pastor, an old school Baptist named Henry George John Gunn and Enos Miles were the first teachers of the settlements first school which was housed in the log church building.

The first road in the district was the Delaware-Mansfield road now route 42, surveyed in 1814. Early historians reported the county as backward in road building. As late as 1840 only six miles of pike existed in the county and that was a toll road. Remainder of the roadways were mud, and almost impassable most of the year. Lack of local gravel deposits was cited as cause of the unprogressive road situation.

Most famous Morrow county thoroughfare is the historical "Old Wheat Road", now route 314. In the years prior to the coming of the railroad in 1851, now the Cleveland-Cincinnati branch, of the NYC, this road was the commercial and agricultural highway of the county. Wagon convoys of sweating horses and shouting teamsters carried the bushels of golden wheat of Morrow county up the old wheat road to Milan 60 miles distant from Chesterville. The Milan market was the only outlet for Morrow county's wheat, the market for its money crop. Here at the Milan market the wheat was sold, transferred to sailing vessels, and moved down the Huron river to Lake Erie thence to the markets of Europe and the eastern seaboard. History of Ohio marks Milan as a large market handling 600 wagon loads totaling $5,000 bushels of wheat. On the return trip the wagons bore barrels of salt and other necessities of the home. The 120 mile trip took a week with either horses or oxen according to Will Gordon, a great grandson of John LaRue, a prominent figure in the years 1830 to 1840 on the old wheat road.

Early Foundry

The county's first industrial venture was Isaac Bunker's foundry near the present dam on the Whetstone river in Cardington which started in 1827. Iron was hauled here from Licking county and using charcoal fuel the plant manufactured the Jethro Wood patent plow which was sold in the largest size at $9 each.

Beside such sterling characters of nationwide fame such as "Johnnes Appleseed" a frequent Morrow county visitor all others pale to a lesser shade except Junn Talmadge. Talmadge an enterprising pioneer earned his living by buying hogs and driving them to market in Baltimore. This was not his chief claim to fame however.

May 15, 1858 Talmadge, then along in years, predicted a killing frost would visit Morrow county early the next month. Talmadge, either by luck or good judgment, had accurately forecast the weather, and a heavy frost in June 1858, on a Saturday night killed practically all growing crops. The history of Morrow county said churches were deserted the following day, Sunday, as farmers wandered aimlessly through their stricken fields and villagers choked the country roads to measure the extent of the damage and worry about the lean winter ahead. No data is available on whether Talmadge lost anything in the frost or whether he took his own good advice and didn't plant anything that year.

It was in 1848 when Morrow county was formed from portions of Richland, Knox Delaware and Marion counties that the residence of Mt. Gilead, formerly Wheatstone, began. Impetus for the growth of Mt. Gilead was its selection after long and not too scrupulous lobbying as county seat of the new county of Morrow on Feb. 29, 1848. Mt. Gilead was 24 years old at this time.

Bitter Slavery Feeling

The county was the scene of much bitter feeling over the slavery issue in the years just prior to the Civil war and a farm home two miles south of Iberia was the scene of an incident between young men of the county and U. S. marshals which crystalized the feeling against slavery in the county.

Ohio was a free state and under the fugitive slave law supported by the historic Dred Scott decision it was a crime to aid runaway slaves. Violation of this unpopular law was no grief to the consciences of many of Morrow county's citizens in 1860, and those of Quaker faith took especial delight in circumventing the federal statute.

Federal men were on the trail of some runaway slaves hidden in a station of the underground railroad near Iberia when the young men of the community strong anti slavery lads, decided to act against the slave law. Taking to horseback the youths soon caught up with the federal men and overpowered them. Under a gnarled old pine which still stands on the Velma Creswell farm the federal men were given, free of charge, a hair clipping and a severe beating. Rev. George Gordon, then president of Ohio Central college at Iberia, opposed and tried to stop this act of mob violence. For his efforts he was brought to trial and imprisoned. He was later issued a personal pardon by President Abraham Lincoln. A few years after his release from prison Rev. Gordon died and his grave is in the cemetery at Iberia. Not long after the "Dred Scott decision" the Civil war and Lincoln's "emancipation proclamation" were to put an end forever to the stealthy tread of the silent Quakers and their frightened bands of runaway slaves as they slipped persistently through the shaded night over the backwoods trails of Morrow county.

Oldest Newspaper

One of the county's early newspapers "The Whig Sentinel" started publication Sept. 7, 1848, with David Watt as editor and publisher. As the Whig party occupied the opposing position to the Democratic party, now held by the Republican party the "Sentinel" was the opposition paper to the only other paper in the county, The Democratic Messenger" which was the Democratic party voice. Although the "Sentinel" has a record of over 100 years of continuous publication it still has had from time to time as at present a Democratic competitor the present one being the "Union Register." The Whig Sentinel adopted is present name "The Morrow County Sentinel" in 1860.

Morrow county bears a proud record of service to the nation in the Civil war, Spanish American war, and World Wars I and II.

As the home of the Hydraulic Press Manufacturing Co., the world's largest maker of hydraulic presses, Morrow county's industry contributed mightily to the war production of both World Wars and in World War II the county led the nation in per capita sales of war savings stamps. In appreciation of this the memorial monument which adorns the city square of Mt. Gilead was presented to the county by the nation. The late Frank B. McMillin, former president and general manger of the Hydraulic Press Manufacturing Co., was the man who spurred county citizens to set this war stamp record during 1917-18 while he was chairman of the war stamp committee.

Morrow county's citizens made equally as impressive contributions to the success of World War II when boys from the county served on all fronts in all forces.

The county's strong position both in agriculture and industry speak well for the future of its citizens as still more farm land is being brought under cultivation by farmers of the county and the local industrial plant continues to enlarge its facilities by bringing workers and equipment from other parts of the state to Mt. Gilead to increase production.

HITS INHIBITIONS AGAINST TEACHERS

By The Associated Press

BOWLING GREEN, O., July 1—Social restrictions on teachers pose the greatest problem in recruiting high-grade instructors, a Pennsylvania educator told a National Education conference yesterday.

"Poor salaries, by and large, have taken second place now," said Dr. C. O. Williams, director of extension and teacher placement at Pennsylvania State college.

"Although I honestly believe these restrictions are more imagined than real, they seem to me to be the greatest deterrent today in the recruitment of school teachers," he continued.

"The meek, docile, harmless and colorless teachers," Williams said, "are not the only ones suffering. The public, if it only realized it, is losing out by not getting the intelligent, well-rounded, alert young woman—what I call the marriageable kind—that we should have."

He admitted the public might "talk" about a teacher who does not follow traditional restrictions on personal and social life but he predicted the talk would not continue.

"Teachers must fight to be natural and like others in respected professions," he added. "They must take the initiative by being and doing. I don't mean by rash methods of over doing. I mean sensible use of the weapons of their times."

Williams was one of the first-day speakers at a four-day conference held at Bowling Green State university by the NEA's national commission on teacher education and professional standards. Four hundred top educators from 48 states are attending.

"100,000 to 150,000 miles between overhauls for each unit, since using V.E.P. Oil," reports Mark West, operator of the Mark West Fruits and Vegetables refrigerator trucks, Terre Haute, Ind. His White trucks have operated between Chicago and Miami on V.E.P. for approximately 3 years, without a bearing failure.

"Scientific tests with plus additives of other oil used, gave clear proof that Marathon gasoline has kept longer than they could with ordinary oil."

SAVE as the big fleets do

Proved for 11 years, V.E.P. Oil gives you these important "Extras"...

1 "Magnetic-filter" film prevents damaging "dry" starts. Doesn't matter at high temperatures. Prevents bearings against corrosion.

2 Continuously cleansing suction keeps valves and rings free, oil holes and lines open. Conserves power, lowers gasoline.

3 More than 5 times the film strength of ordinary oil to prevent ugliness, pressures, shock.

Make your motor last 50% longer* —the way so many taxi, car rental and industrial fleets are doing. Change to Marathon V. E. P. Oil. Different. Patented. Puts 50% more miles between costly overhauls. Saves gasoline, too.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Pampered Farmers

If the folks in our town were less tolerant, they'd be really burned up over that nationally circulated article on "pampered farmers," describing them as living off the fat of the land.

From where I sit the farmer is anything but "pampered." If he's better off today than twenty years ago it's because he's worked hard to improve the quality and quantity of his production.

Take Bert Childers, for example. Bert is up at four in the morning, to get the milking finished—and ploughing or harvesting, depending on the season, until sundown. In the evening he finally relaxes with the missus over a moderate glass of beer.

And the farmer today's not only temperate in his habits, like Bert's evening glass of beer ... but tolerant in his opinions. So he'll probably say of that article, "somebody got the facts wrong," and just let it go at that.

COURT HOUSE PICNIC HELD WEDNESDAY

Staff, Families Enjoy Party at Upper Sandusky.

The annual picnic for members of the court house staff and their families was held yesterday afternoon and evening at Harrison-Smith Park in Upper Sandusky. More than 150 attended the event, according to Fred Miller, common pleas court bailiff who served as general chairman of arrangements assisted by Walter S. Guthrie, clerk of the county commissioners.

Virtually the entire court house staff was present including members of the Cole-Layer-Trumble Co. field group conducting the county real estate appraisal and of the Navy recruiting office, both located in the courthouse.

Program included games and contests for youngsters and grown-up alike, including a softball game with Carroll Davidson, sales tax examiner, in his traditional role of umpire. Many of the group took advantage of the swimming pool at the park during the course of the picnic which continued in full swing until dark.

Tire Prices Raised By U.S. Rubber Co.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, July 1 — United States Rubber Co. today raised its tire and tube prices from 5 to 7½ per cent.

The company, first to announce a tire increase, said passenger car tires would be up about 6 per cent, truck tires up 5 per cent and farm tractor tires up 6 to 7½ per cent depending on size. Inner tubes will be 6 per cent higher.

The announcement said the increase reflects rising costs of labor, raw materials, transportation and other factors.

5 Navy Reserve Fliers, 1 a War Hero, Killed

By The Associated Press

FREDERICKSBURG, Va., July 1 — Five Navy reserve fliers were killed yesterday in the crash of a twin-engine transport plane five miles north of here.

One of them was war hero Allen W. (Snuffy) Smith, who as a torpedo member pilot was credited with shooting down a "Tojo" bomber and with the sinking of a light Japanese cruiser and a heavy Japanese cruiser.

The fliers were returning to the Naval air base in Atlanta, Ga., from Anacostia near Washington, when their plane went down in a wooded area in Stafford County, Va., at about 2 p. m. (EST).

CLARE BOOTHE LUCE TO QUIT POLITICS

By The Associated Press

RIDGEFIELD, Conn., July 1 — Clare Boothe Luce said today that she was through with politics, both as a possible officeholder and campaigner.

The former Connecticut congresswoman and writer gave two reasons for her decision. She told the Bridgeport Post in an interview that:

First, she feels that the Dewey-Warren Republican ticket is "as good as elected" and does not need her help.

Second, she wants to return to her first love—writing.

Mrs. Luce plans to attend the national Democratic convention as a newspaper writer. That, she said, will be her last personal contact with politics.

Milk at Portsmouth Up 2 1/2 Cents Quart

By The Associated Press

PORTSMOUTH, O., July 1 — The price of a quart of milk went up two and a half cents a quart at retail here today. Distributors announced the boost last night. Milk now costs 22½ cents a quart. Milk byproducts were increased proportionately.

CHEMICAL FIRE IN TOLEDO

By The Associated Press

TOLEDO, O., July 1 — Two firemen and a company employe suffered minor injuries yesterday when fire punctuated by a series of chemical explosions, caused an estimated $100,000 damage to the Hilfinger Co., an electroplating firm. The blaze started in a metal cleaning solvent. Cause was undetermined.

GRASSHOPPERS PLAY HAVOC IN MISSISSIPPI

By The Associated Press

BASSFIELD, Miss., July 1—A mass of crunching, crawling grasshoppers — eating everything in its path but the bitterweeds — continued to inch its way through corn and cotton fields surrounding this southeastern Mississippi farm town today.

The invasion, now two days old, is being fought with a poisonous mixture of white arsenic, wheat bran and sawdust strewn in the path of the slow moving hordes.

Bill Dorris, a farmer whose fields are among those being devastated, says effectiveness of the counter-attack will be known within 36 hours.

A Memphis firm offered to spray the grasshoppers from the air with an insecticide at a cost of $2.20 an acre.

"Few Bassfield farmers would pay that price even if it saved their crops," Dorris said. "But we've got to stop them. The smaller farmers will be ruined unless we do."

Several new outbreaks were reported yesterday within a seven-mile radius of Bassfield. The poison was applied immediately in each instance. At least 10 localities on the new list have been laid waste so far, but there has been no estimate of damage.

Celery, which grows wild in many parts of the world, was not used for food until the 18th Century.

The new owners evicted the mother and daughter but forgot to mention it. He rented it. When they tried to they were jailed for five days and fined $100.

New York Stock Quotations

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, July 1 — The stock market slumped a bit lower today.

Steel shares were singled out for selling attention soon after the opening but later tended to recover. Losses generally were less than a point.

Union Pacific opened at 86¼ after closing at 191¼ yesterday. A two-for-one split-up of the common stock went into effect today.

Lower prices were paid for General Motors, U. S. Steel, International Telephone, American Smelting, Radio Corp., Southern Pacific, Standard Oil (NJ), and Distillers Corp-Seagrams.

Holding out with small gains were Packard, Caterpillar Tractor, Southern Railway, Atlantic Coast Line, and Sinclair Oil.

Nickel Plate, which rushed ahead Wednesday, opened late at an unchanged price.

New York City Ups Taxes, Bans Pinballs

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, July 1—Local laws banning pinball machines and doubling the city's business tax were signed yesterday by Mayor William O. Dwyer after public hearings.

The city council and board of estimate had passed the measures.

Both were strongly opposed at the hearings.

The mayor referred to the increased tax which is expected to yield an additional $36,000,000 a year revenue, as a "fiea bite."

The new levy is one-fifth of one per cent on the gross receipts of a general business with annual receipts of $10,000 or more, and two-fifths of one per cent of gross receipts of a final business.

Patrol Reports Two Accidents, One Arrest

Two highway accidents, a truck-car collision and an overturned truck, neither of which resulted in injury to the drivers, were reported by the state highway today. One arrest on traffic charges was also reported.

A transport truck driven by Arthur Bechler of New Jersey overturned at 4:30 a. m. today on highway 42 about four miles south of Cardington when the steering rod broke. The vehicle ran off the road, struck a fence and overturned, but the driver luckily escaped injury. The truck was considerably damaged.

At 5 p. m. yesterday about three and one-half miles south of here on route 30 a car driven by C. W. Kaestner of Lorain, going south, and a truck driven by Oscar Cline of Nevada, going north, collided without injury to the drivers. Kaestner posted $20 bond for his appearance in municipal court tomorrow to answer a charge of failing to yield the right of way.

2 Sisters Die, Third Hurt, on Trestle

By The Associated Press

BOSTON, July 1 — Two sisters were killed and a third was injured seriously when two freight trains moving in opposite directions trapped four youngsters on a trestle over Neponset river last night.

The dead were identified as Virginia Lyons, 12, and her sister, Patricia, 14, of Boston.

The third sister, Joan, 17, was in serious condition at city hospital.

Clifford Bruns, 19, also of Boston, who was walking with them on the 30-yard long New Haven railroad trestle, was not hurt seriously.

CIO PHONE WORKERS PLAN "COLD STRIKE"

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK July 1—Preparing for a possible nation wide walkout of 30 000 workers, the Association of Communication Equipment workers (CIO) plans a 'cold strike' and placard campaign at telephone exchanges in almost every state

The union announced last night that a nation-wide poll of its members had authorized the bargaining committee to call a strike against the Western Electric Co

Union President Ernest Weaver said the bargaining committee had been authorized by a four to one vote to order a strike should such be necessary to enforce demands for a wage increase of 31 cents an hour

The cold strike goes into effect today Weaver said with union members carrying placards proclaiming their grievances to the public at every prominent telephone exchange in the country where our members are employed

Price of Ice Cream Raised by Company

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND July 1 — The Telling Belle Vernon Co Ohio's largest dairy products producer increased wholesale prices of ice cream today by approximately 10 per cent

The price of bulk ice cream went up 15 cents a gallon and packaged ice cream was raised 2½ cents a pint Retailers are expected to pass the increase along to consumers

The company said a continuing shortage of milk supplies had prevented storing the usual reserve during the peak production season and thus necessitated heavier purchases during the period of higher prices to farmers Cost of truck operations has doubled since pre-war years and other increases in labor and operating costs helped to cause the price boost the company added

SAFE JULY 4 AIM OF OHIO COMMITTEE

By International News Service

COLUMBUS July 1 A funeral a maimed hand lost fingers or eyes that never again will see are holiday souvenirs nobody covets for himself or family

Such was the warning sounded today by Joseph Hall president of the Kroger Grocery Company and general chairman of Governor Herbert's Ohio fire safety committee

The occasion was a plea for a "July the Fourth without accident or fatality

"Sheriffs fire chiefs and police men said Hall can and will do much to protect you and your children from the hazard of fire crackers Better than ever before they are organized this year to wrap the mantle of safety around Ohio citizens

"However they cannot put safety sense into the heads and behavior of folks who will neither listen nor learn

The fire safety committee pointed out that fireworks are all right as entertainment when they are set off under specified conditions by persons qualified and authorized to handle them'

However the committee warned that 'there will be chiselers cruising in automobiles selling their wares wherever youngsters congregate' Every parent was asked to cooperate with police in the elimination of this practice

FOOD PRICE AVERAGE SHOWS LITTLE SHIFT

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK July 1 — Food price changes up or down about cancelled each other out this week across the nation But the government predicted even higher record meat prices this fall

Retail volume increased this week and wholesale sales were up slightly but production was slightly lower than the week before

Food chains and big markets reported dollar sales 14 per cent higher than last June Independent retailers said sales were up 8 per cent Wholesale grocers were taking in about 10 per cent more money than last June

Fresh fruits melons and vegetables were tending seasonally lower But sugar cocoa and some meats were higher

Supplies were plentiful in most areas Farmers reported most early crops were in above average condition but rain in the northeast delayed some planting so that fair crops will depend upon good weather for the rest of the summer

Spring pig production in many sections was reported below the 10-year average Butter and cheese production was below last year but meat processing figures were above last year

The Associated Press wholesale commodity price index food component advanced from the previous week and was the highest since Feb 6 The livestock component declined in the week however

The wholesale food price index of Dun & Bradstreet eased slightly during the week to $7 14 from $7 16 the week before The index is the total cost per pound of each of 31 foods A year ago the index was $6 39

One of the oldest cultivated vegetables is the onion first known in parts of Asia

Call "Cold Strike" Against Ohio Bell

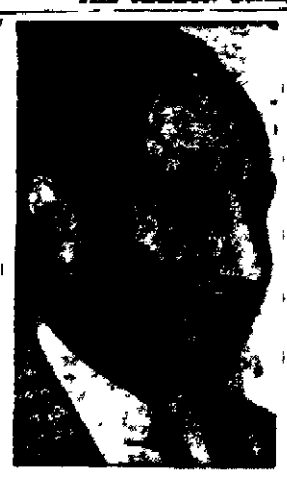
By The United Press

COLUMBUS, O, July 1—A lone sign-carrier paraded in front of the Ohio Bell Telephone Co office here today in a "cold strike."

Paul Thompson, 15, carried a sign declaring

"This is not a strike nor a picket line I may be replaced by a picket line, pending outcome of bargaining ACEW still fighting for a wage increase"

The national head of the Association of Communication Equipment Workers in New York, Ernest Weaver described the demonstration as a "cold strike" The union has authorized a strike against the Western Electric Co, subsidiary of American Telephone and Telegraph Co



IN FEDERAL PROBE — Former U S attorney in Newark, N J, Edgar H. Rosenbach (above) is said to have confirmed reports that he has been under investigation by the Department of Justice since his resignation, May 24. He charged a "smear attempt" and said he would hit back An alleged income tax bribe offer is involved in the federal investigation

DRAFT LENIENCY ASKED FOR FARMERS

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O, July 1—Leniency for Ohio's farm boys subject to draft was asked today by the Ohio Farm Bureau federation

The federation's board of trustees asked the legislative department of the Ohio Farm Bureau "to call to the attention of the proper authorities the situation that agriculture faces in its attempt to meet the requirements for food and fibre in the United States and the world"

Farm boys are needed to produce food, the trustees said The resolution added Farmers never shirk their duty in times of national emergency, but only ask that proper consideration be given to the task they have in making their best contribution ot the public welfare"

TRANSFER SOLDIER TO BLOCK MARRIAGE

By The United Press

YOKOHAMA, JAPAN, July 1—Cpl Delbert Reed, 19, of Columbus O., has been transferred to the United States for reassignment at the request of his mother, who asked the Army to prevent the youth from marrying a Japanese girl in Kyoto.

The Army announced the transfer and said Reed sailed June 23 on the Transport Gen. Brewster. The announcement said the action was taken "in view of the moral question involved" and with the approval of Washington.

His mother Mrs. Oren Reed, began her campaign to get her son out of Japan last month when he wrote of plans to marry a native of that country She appealed to the Army and Red Cross to prevent the ceremony.

Mrs Reed was informed earlier this week by Lt. Gen. Robert L. Eichelberger, commander of the Eighth army in Japan, that her son would be transferred. The general, a native Ohioan, said he would not approve the marriage The happy mother said her son said in a recent letter that he wants to go back to Japan after he is discharged and marry the girl. She added that "you never can tell what he will do"

Ohio Associated Seeks New Phone Territory

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O, July 1—The Ohio Associated Telephone Co of Marion today asked the state utilities commission for permission to file original rate schedules for two proposed Meigs county exchanges.

The company said the exchanges would be in Letart Falls and Portland.

The application was supported by a petition signed by 129 prospective subscribers.

A commission spokesman said the area has no telephone service at present He said approximately 26 miles of line would be strung in the area by the company.

TO TEACH RELIGION AT PROSPECT, ASHLEY

At a recent meeting of the committee on religious education in the public schools, Mrs. Carolyn Giesch White of Delaware was employed to teach the subject in Prospect Kilbourne and Ashley schools.

Mrs White, a former missionary to India, spent several years in that country, some of them war years, and she and others had charge of a canteen. Many have heard her speak and agree that she is capable and interesting and is well qualified for the position. She will begin at the start of the school year in September.

Mrs White is an alumnus of Ohio Wesleyan university and received her training in religious education in the Baptist missionary training school, in Chicago.

Officers of the Committee on religious education in this area are J O Borkosky of near Kilbourne president J W Henry Ashley vice president Mrs Asa Vivers Prospect secretary, Mrs Walter Penry, Radnor treasurer.

F.C. CLUB MEETS WITH MRS. WILLMETH

When the F. C club met in the home of Mrs. Edith Willmeth of New Bloomington last Thursday afternoon, Mrs. Doris Kish of Detroit, Mich., was a guest. Also a guest was Mrs. Cora Bill of Marion. Awards in games went to Mrs Blanche Moore, Mrs. Bill, Mrs Mona George, Mrs Alberta Brothers, and Mrs Mary Emerson, and a mystery package was won by the hostess. Special awards went to Mrs Betty Whittington and Mrs Juanita Hatch. The next meeting will be held in the evening at the home of Mrs Virginia Mayes on Milburn avenue.

In the Service

Henry Jackson Rhinehart, 17 son of Mrs. Mary Butler of near Galion and Don Junior Powers, 17 son of Mr and Mrs L. Powers, of Bucyrus, successfully passed enlistment examinations and were accepted for three year enlistments in the U. S. Navy. According to information received here today by Chief Engineman Carl T. Frommes, Marion's Navel recruiter both men are now taking recruit training at Great Lakes, Ill. When this training has been finished Seaman Rhinehart will attend motor mechanics school for 14 weeks training.

Restrains Shipping Workers from Striking

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, July 1 — Federal Judge Emerich B. Freed today restrained the National Maritime union from striking against Great Lakes shippers for an 80-day period.

The injunction, similar to one issued against the CIO UMU in New York last week, was issued under a Taft-Hartley law provision to delay work stoppages which might endanger the national health and safety.

MRS ALTA MORRIS HOSTESS FOR 8 ET 40

For a meeting of Marion Salon No 251 8 et 40, Monday night, Mrs. Alta Morris was hostess in her home at 534 North Prospect street. RED CROSS TO OPEN SWIMMING CLASSES

Courses in Water Safety Will Begin Tuesday.

Final arrangements for the opening of water safety classes next week by the Marion county chapter of the American Red Cross were completed last night at a meeting of the instructors, the junior and senior life savers and the members of the water safety committee at the chapter office.

The classes are to be held at Crystal Lake beginning next Tuesday, July 6, to Aug. 31. Five classes of one and one-half hours each will be held five days a week, Monday through Friday. Starting at 10 a. m., the classes will be each day at 10 a. m., 1 p. m., 2:30 p. m., 4 p. m. and 6:30 p. m.

Anyone six years of age or older may enroll in these water safety classes. No knowledge of swimming is necessary. Persons interested in enrolling in the classes are urged to do so by calling the local Red Cross office. Special reduced admittance rates to Crystal Lake will be given to enrollees, but to take advantage of these special rates you must enroll at the chapter office.

Charles J. Smith is chairman of water safety in the local chapter.

Following the meeting, a film, "Oars and Paddles," a Red Cross film dealing with canoeing, was shown.

PRESBYTERY SERVICE

A quarterly communion service at St. Paul's Lutheran church at Prospect will be held Sunday at 10:30 a. m., Rev. S. C. Long, pastor, announced.

Love's Perilous Path

By ADELE GARRISON

"O-HAY!" Mary answered in the same muted tones I had used. "But, naturally, later."

I nodded my understanding assent, for we both knew that the message she wished to give her father-in-law must not be uttered until we were safely inside his apartment on the top floor of the Lansfield. Indeed, no word, except Philip's directions to the elevator man, was spoken until Olga had ushered us into the suite, and Philip had closed the outer door.

Olina was at her mother's side, and I saw that while her rigid training as a princess was bolstering her composure, she was seething inside with excitement.

"It is so good of you to come up to aid us," she said. "Philip is about to start downtown, but first he must tell you of his marvelous find in a wedding gown."

"Give all the credit to the new fashions," Philip said, smiling. "This particular gown came from a costume drama which unfortunately never was produced. The period was the one which the styles now are reflecting, and the gown was supposed to be that of a king's bride. It really was a most marvelous thing, and it never was worn. The play never reached the dress rehearsal stage. The star turned temperamental on me, because her head had been turned by success. She thought because the show was so near production that she was indispensable.

"As a matter of fact, she was, if I wished to put on the play," he said. "But she did not count on my abandoning the idea of the play altogether. I imagine that she regretted her temperamental outburst rather keenly."

I had known Philip Veritzen was ruthless, and I never before had known the real reason for the abandonment of the play, which had been widely publicized. I gave a little shiver, not for the star, who deserved the punishment, nor for the playright, well established with many successes to his credit, but for the actors.

That Olga had read my tell-tale face, I knew when she spoke softly.

"Tell Madge and Mary, my Philip, what you did for the actors in the play."

"There was only one thing to do," he said, in matter-of-fact tones. "They were not to blame. I paid them their salaries for what would have been the ordinary run of the play. But I did not give the star a cent, and the playwright, the star's husband, refused to accept any reimbursement. He understood my position, and also that his wife had tried to hold his prestige as a sword over my head. Later, they were divorced. I am sure she gave him some sort of ultimatum also, and he refused to submit to it."

I might have known, I told myself. Philip is as extravagantly generous as he is relentless when crossed. But he was speaking again, and I abandoned my thoughts to listen to him.

"I always have counted that production a total loss until today," he said. "But now," he added grandiloquently, "it has more than paid for itself. It has provided my dear daughter"—he sent an affectionate smile to Olina — "with a wedding gown which is costly enough in materials and skilled workmanship for the most elaborate royal wedding. The star for whom it was designed is about Olina's height and weight. I think it will require little or no alteration. But Charles warned me no dressmaker could be called in."

"I would not have a stranger touch that gown," Olga said. "Olina and I can make all necessary changes ourselves."

"Aunt Madge swings a mean needle," Mary said, "and I can pull out basting threads. And I know she's at your service, as I am."

"I accept your offer with much gratitude," Olga said. "But, my Philip, how soon may we have the gown? You have to see to that publicity for Charles, you know."

Federal Court Upholds Non-Communist Pledge

NEW YORK, July 1 — By a two-to-one vote a three-judge federal tribunal has upheld the constitutionality of Taft-Hartley law provisions for the signing of non-Communist affidavits by union officers.

Union attorneys said the case will be appealed to the U. S. supreme court.

In a decision handed down yesterday the court also upheld provisions of the law requiring unions to file financial statements.

FLAVOR — Use TreeSweet Lemon Juice to add snap to salad dressings, salads, seafoods, and other hot weather dishes. Wonderful in long, cool drinks.

HEALTH — For that sharp, glad-to-be-alive feeling, drink PURE lemon juice and water daily. Flavorful and high in vitamin "C."

ECONOMY — Every can of TreeSweet contains the PURE juice of 6 tree-ripened California lemons, yet costs only a few cents.

CONVENIENT — Handy 5½ oz TreeSweet can is easy to buy, easy to store. No spoilage. Just punch and pour. Beats waiting for a fresh lemon.

Take home a few cans of TreeSweet Lemon Juice, keep it on hand for every use

FUNDS DISTRIBUTED BY MUNICIPAL COURT

Month's Total of $3,167 Disbursed by Clerk.

The monthly distribution of municipal court funds for June was reported today by Mrs. Clara Fisch, statistical clerk of the court.

The total distributed amounted to $3,167.50.

Of this amount $3,167.50 was paid to the city treasurer A total of $3,014 was paid into the city general fund while $150 50 went to the street maintenance and repair fund and $3 was paid out in witness fees to persons appearing at hearings as witnesses in criminal cases in court.

The treasurer of Marion county was paid $160.50 from fines in which prosecution was heard on a state statute.

The treasurer of state at Columbus was paid a total of $150 50 Of this total $150.50 was paid in as the state's portion of fines collected in highway patrol cases while $9.50 was paid out after being received in arrests by state liquor department agents.

Sheriff LeRoy Ketterer was paid $26.50 for bastardy fees and mileage on cases where prisoners arrested by city police were lodged in the county jail or transported by sheriff's department cars for hearings, commitments or other causes.

A total of $146 was paid to the general fund of the city after being collected by the court as fees for civil causes heard by the court

In Plain Words

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

IT'S about time politicians got a new technique for their political conventions

It would be a lot easier on the human beings who go to them if the speeches were fewer and shorter

The present method, repeated every four years, is old-fashioned and tiresome long speeches and wild demonstrations that don't mean much

The late Thomas "Fats Waller the fat and happy piano player, used to sing a piece called "The Joint Is Jumpin

James Marlow

It describes the Republican convention in Philadelphia on the night of Wednesday June 23, the night of the nominating speeches

What happened then may have impressed somebody listening over a radio It didn't win any votes for anyone

Starting at 9 p m and ending around 4 o'clock in the morning, the names of the would-be candidates for president were placed in nomination.

That meant seven hours of speech-making and demonstrating, far beyond the time when everyone there wished he were in bed

Each person who got up in the jammed convention hall was allowed 15 minutes to make the speech nominating his candidate

Everyone who got up after him to second the nomination was allowed five minutes And there were relays of seconding speakers although only one was needed

To make matters worse, almost every speaker used up every minute allowed him.

THERE WAS HARDLY anything new in the speeches, anything which the delegates, who were going to vote for the candidates, didn't already know

Most of them were full of the old-time, highblown oratory, trying to make the candidate being mentioned look like the glistening savior of America.

The speechmaking would have been tough enough and tiresome enough if that was all that had happened.

But there were the demonstrations in between. They lasted anywhere from four to five minutes to more than a half-hour of screaming, jumping, parading through the aisles, waving banners.

IF YOU WERE HOME, listening to it over your radio, you might have thought each parade after a nomination was a spontaneous outburst of joy, all very sudden, for the candidate just placed in nomination. It wasn't

For example A swarm of people waited for hours in the basement so they could go upstairs at the right time and put on, or join in, the demonstration for Harold E Stassen when his name was placed in nomination.

They carried huge Stassen banners and thousands of balloons to give color to their performance when it started.

All that happened on Wednesday night and early Thursday morning. But nobody at that time could be swept up in emotion to cast a single ballot for anyone The reason

THE VOTING ITSELF did not and everyone there knew would not start until Thursday afternoon But it's been customary for years to put on demonstrations like that, so they were put on

All this must have been a bit amusing to Gov Thomas E Dewey and the political generals running his campaign.

They knew on Wednesday night, amid all the excitement that Dewey was the best bet to get the nomination when the voting started the next day

There's a moral in all this

1. The long speeches, nominating and seconding, could be improved by cutting them down, while saving everyone's time and patience.

2. The big demonstrations on nominating night are noise, but not much more They're a hangover from times past

Come to think of it, the convention would be improved if the speeches on the other convention days were shorter and fewer.

RETURNING BODY OF MARION SOLDIER

Sgt. William C. Wood Being Removed from Manila.

The body of Sgt. William C Wood, son of Mr and Mrs. William H Wood of Peoria and a native of Marion, who was killed in action in the Philippines April 14, 1945, is being returned to the United States from a burial spot near Manila, according to word received by the parents.

Sgt. Wood was born Dec 18, 1919 in Marion to William H Wood and Wanda Moffett Wood. Prior to his induction into service, he was a coremaker at the Mt. Vernon Cooper-Bessemer plant. He was graduated from Raymond High school with the class of 1937

After entering the Army in January 1943 he received his training at Camp Siebert, Ala and was sent overseas in August of the same year

Surviving with his parents are a daughter, Bonnie Louise, three brothers, Thomas C. of Cleveland, Paul of Raymond, and Wayne, at home, and his maternal grandparents, Mr and Mrs. J. S. Moffett of Peoria.

Former Marion Boy Is St. Neri Graduate

Byron E. Thomas, son of Mr and Mrs. LeMoyne Thomas of Tucson, Ariz., former residents of Marion, was a member of the graduating class of the School of St. Philip Neri, in Boston, Mass. A graduate of St. Mary Parochial High school, Marion, and Ohio State university, Columbus, he also served with the Army Air corps in World War II He will continue his studies for the priesthood in California.

For the graduation exercises the certificates were presented by the Very Rev. John J McEleney, S. J provincial of the New England Jesuit province Of the 72 students receiving certificates 35 were preparing to serve as priests in various dioceses and the other 37 entered 18 different religious and missionary communities. Seventy-five per cent of the class were World War II veterans.

Mr and Mrs. Thomas formerly lived on Chestnut street and have been making their home in Tucson since last November

Your Good Health

By DR. HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

When a Child Is Overweight

The overweight child presents a special problem both as to the reason for his excess poundage and as regards treatment.

Some physicians believe most cases of overweight are due to eating more than overeating On the other hand, an accumulation of excess fat is so far at variance with what we consider normal during childhood that many experts are inclined to think it can be accounted for only by glandular disturbance, such as a lack of thyroid secretion or a disturbance of the pituitary gland located at the base of the brain

It goes without saying that the child who is greatly overweight should be studied by a physician so that the true nature of an condition can be determined.

When it comes to ridding him of his extra fat, however Dr H. Boyd Graham, of Melbourne Australia, believes the best results are obtained by the proper doses of thyroid extract, and that starvation diets and violent exercise are to be avoided.

Overweight or not, no child should be underfed. He needs certain basic foods to grow on and these must be supplied, even though fattening foods can be safely eliminated. Such things as skim milk lean meat, plain cheese and eggs are not only permitted but encouraged Fruits and vegetables may be taken in unrestricted amounts. Fats, sugars, and cereals should be eaten sparingly and there should be no between meal snacks.

Such sports as swimming and skating are particularly useful in maintaining physical fitness. Competitive games are helpful as well Good posture may be taught by stomach exercises

The thyroid extract is given early in the day in order not to produce any disturbance of the sleep. The dose is given under the direction of the physician until a loss in weight is occurring If the child is nervous or easily excited it may be necessary to give a barbiturate to quiet the nervous system

During the treatment, the pulse rate and blood pressure should be determined, from time to time, and samples of the urine should be tested so that if any abnormal conditions develop they may be properly recognized and the treatment discontinued, if necessary

The symptoms of overdosage of thyroid extract include rapid heart-beat, restlessness, diarrhea, and headache

Of course, it is possible to bring about a loss of weight in a child with proper diet alone, but, since a child is growing, it is necessary to make sure that he is getting all of the essential food parts. Without them he may suffer damage to his general health which will be reflected in lowered stamina throughout his future life. Thus, the problem of bringing about weight reduction in a child is one for the expert and not to be attempted by an amateur

Questions and Answers

M. V How much should a young baby be handled.

Answer The baby should be handled only when necessary Unnecessary handling of the infant will only lead to spoiling. But this does not mean that a parent should not pick up his or her baby to love and fondle him. This is considered necessary handling

Roving Reports

By Hal Boyle

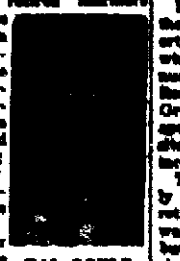
STATEN ISLAND, N. Y.

THE ships stand out to sea, and the old men sit on benches on a broad green lawn and watch them go.

Elderly men like them, done with the sea, have been doing this for 118 years on a tree-shaded 900-acre estate bordering New York harbor

They are old salts washed up on this grassy beach after a lifetime on the deep. Their last anchorage is called "The Sailors' Snug Harbor."

And it is snug harbor indeed. Because of it retired mariners here are like millionaires in one respect—they have no housing shortage There actually is a shortage of old sailors willing to spend their last years together on the cuff



HAL BOYLE

"In 1915, our peak year we had 835 men here," said the home's governor, Capt. Henry R Patterson, a retired naval officer "Now we have less than 400"

The "Sailors' Snug Harbor" is a multi million dollar investment and affords its occupants a pleasanter life than many enjoyed in their years at sea. The home has fifty buildings, including eight main dormitories and mess halls its own hospital and medical staff and a dairy with sixty milk cows

It also has its own cemetery Of the 8 000 seafarers who have retired here, few have left More than 3 000 are buried on the grounds.

THE MEN GET free food quarters, clothing and a pound of tobacco— either chewing or smoking—a month. Those who want to can also earn $6 to $15 a month spending money doing odd jobs around the home.

It is one of the world's most unusual charities. It was created by Captain Robert Richard Randall, a privateer, who died in 1801 and left $7,500 and a 30-acre farm in Manhattan to found a home for "aged, decrepit and worn-out sailors."

The will was drawn by a famous land-lubber—Alexander Hamilton—and he drew it so expertly that relatives tried for 30 years in vain to break it. The home was opened in 1833.

IT EXPANDED STEADILY on the vast income from the property left by Captain Randall, which borders lower Fifth avenue and has grown to great value. Rent paid by Mark Twain and Grover Whalen for houses or apartments built on the old farm site have helped swell the funds income.

The original trustees apparently had some hope of wringing the retired mariners from the wild ways of their youth, for they built a huge church and a chapel. But a sailor is a hard man to reform at any age.

"The church has become something of a white elephant to us—it is so expensive to repair," admitted Capt. Patterson. "And only about thirty of the men attend services each Sunday."

Their favorite recreations are shooting pool, playing checkers, swapping lies, or just sitting on the benches watching the ships plow eastward.

There is a library of 6,000 volumes, but 70-year-old Capt. Fred Neely, the librarian, said only a few old sailors asked for "good books."

"They don't read any stories much either," he said, shaking his head. "All they want is weather—cowboy stories."

We're only young once, in truth,
Once gone there's no reviving,
A girl should hold on to her youth,
But NOT while he is driving.

Mrs. Rhodebeck, 99, Joins Morrow Co. Celebration

MRS. SARAH ELLEN RHODEBECK
Nearly Same Age as Morrow County

* * *

When the Morrow county centennial parade moves off at 1 p m Monday at Mt. Gilead, the brightest eyes and the sweetest smile will not be those of 17-year-old Ramona Graham, the centennial queen. This is not a slight to Miss Graham as an acknowledged beauty queen but when the big parade gets rolling Miss Graham will be up against some unusual competition for the woman who will ride in the seat of honor next to Governor Thomas J. Herbert will be the real "queen" of the celebration. She is Mrs Sarah Ellen Rhodebeck, Morrow county's oldest resident, and surely one of its best loved, and she'll be just 100 years young next Dec. 17.

Although her photograph may lead some to believe her to be a model for Whistler's "Mother," Mrs. Rhodebeck in person is almost unbelievably youthful. She is spry, full of pep and many a person half her age would be much happier with her bright outlook for the future. Her eyes, her memory, her wit and her appetite are sharp and her laugh has the merry ring of a girl of 16.

Mrs. Rhodebeck was born Sarah Ellen McClenathan, Dec. 17, 1840, the daughter of Samuel and Rachael Dalrymple McClenathan, who came to Richland county from Amity in Washington county, Pa in 1833. Her father "entered" the 160 acres of their farm (part of which is now the Aaron Smith farm) one mile west of West Point, about seven miles from Mt. Gilead.

Home Built in 1860

"I wore flannel dresses and I walked two miles each way to and from the Lone Star school. I can easily remember my home for we built the frame house a year before the Civil War started We'd lived in a cabin up until that time Our place was located in two townships. Our barn was in Washington township and our house was in Congress township I attended Iberia college three months after common school.

"The first president I can remember was Abraham Lincoln. The opposition to Mr Lincoln said awful things about him both during the presidential campaign and after his election The Civil war was an awful time for everybody but even more so for our family, for my father was a Democrat.

"All Democrats were suspected of being pro-slavery and southern sympathizers Democrats here used to wear pins on their coats and dresses made of butternuts and for many years Democrats were oftimes called "butternuts" from this custom. Political feeling was mighty strong at the time and there was some talk among the more rapid Republicans of the community about giving my father a tar and feather treatment because he was such a strong Democrat. Nothing ever came of it though. When the Republicans used to see a Democrat wearing his "butternut" many of them used to try to pull the butternut pins off his clothes and then the fights would start. Many Democrats were called "secession rebels" when the arguments over politics would break out.

Married in 1870

"On December 8, 1870, I was married to Chester M. Rhodebeck. I was almost 21 years old. We had grown up as school mates. He was a native of the Mt. Gilead district and grew up about two miles from town. He was born in March 1847 We had a big wedding and Rev McMillin of the Presbyterian church was the minister I have all my five children still living and I have 13 grandchildren, 17 great grandchildren, and two great, great grandchildren. My eldest son Samuel M. Rhodebeck is a retired farmer living in Rock Island, Ill., after living 50 years in Kansas. My other children are Mrs. Roy Gallaher of near Mt. Gilead, John H. Rhodebeck who lives retired at Galion, B Thomas Rhodebeck of Shelby, and Mrs. Dave Snyder of near West Point.

"My husband died in 1911 Two years before he died we went for our first automobile ride. I will always remember it. I've always thought I'd like to take a ride in an airplane but my daughters worry so much about me I don't suppose I ever will. I think airplanes are the coming thing. I'm not over fond of the "new look" I've seen long dresses come and go and the same with short ones. I think the best style in women's dresses is in between, neither too long or too short.

"That reminds me if I'm going to ride in that $6,000 Lincoln automobile I'll have to get a new dress. I think I'll enjoy riding with the governor even if he is a Republican and I'm such a strong Democrat After all, being a Republican has gotten him the governorship, but being a Democrat has kept me strong and healthy for 99 years. My oldest boy is a Democrat too. I can remember when he was just a little fellow he was a great Grover Cleveland fan

Five Years in Kansas

I lived all of my life to date in Morrow and Richland counties with the exception of five years I spent in Lousburg, Kan., taking care of my sister I took care of her until she died and then came home to do some more nursing in the neighborhood here I was only 60 then I like reading and baking pies, but since last winter I can't read so well and my daughters won't let me do too much baking Things have changed a lot during my future Sometimes I don't think things are as well made today as they were years ago I used to wear homemade shoes and I still have linen tablecloths for which my mother spun the thread from flax.

"I'm looking forward to the big parade They say I'm the oldest resident of the county I really don't know if I am or not but I guess one reason I've lived as long as I have, is I've never been sick, and she added with a merry wink "I've been a good Democrat even though I remember when Warren Harding was just a schoolteacher

The original Siamese twins came from Bangkok to Boston in 1829 and 11 years later settled down as farmers in North Carolina.

LIQUOR SALES OF 12 FIRMS HALTED

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., July 1—A dozen manufacturing and distributing firms were under state liquor department orders today not to sell beer and wine in Ohio pending an investigation of their sale policies.

Liquor director Dale Dunlton said the firms—six of them from Ohio—are under investigation for extending credit in violation of state law.

Ohio firms, Dunlton said, "are subject to proceeding before the Ohio board of liquor control leading to suspension or revocation of permits under which they operate."

Under Ohio law, the out-of-state firms must obtain a "shipping consent" from the liquor department before selling beer and wine in the state.

Dunlton said his action resulted from a receivership case in Montgomery county pleas court involving the Dayton Distributing Co. The 12 firms filed claims asking payment for merchandise previously delivered.

The liquor director said the companies included:

Dessert Distributing Co., Cincinnati; Peoples Wine Co., Cincinnati; Kodaco Co., Cincinnati; Siegfried Loewenthal Co., Cleveland; Fort Hayes Beer Distributing Co., Columbus and Vine Street Wine Co., Steubenville.

Police Report Two Minor Accidents

Two minor accidents were reported by Marion city police today.

Maurice Mettler, 14, of 847 North Prospect street was uninjured when he was struck at North Prospect and Farming streets by a car driven by Dean E. Barrett, 41, of 625 Park street at 4:30 p. m. yesterday.

Wilbur Van Pestle, 28, of 618 Windsor street reported to police that a collision occurred between the car he was driving and an unidentified car at East Center and Greenwood streets at 9:30 p. m. last night. The Pestle car was slightly damaged.

LICENSES ISSUED

UPPER SANDUSKY—Marriage licenses have been issued in probate court here to Samuel Charles Bennett, press operator, and Miss Betty L. Drew, bookkeeper, and to George Margrof, factory worker, and Miss Mary Wagner.

BE TRAFFIC SAFETY MINDED

UPPER SANDUSKY, July 1—Police here are planning to cooperate with other officers throughout the state in the annual police traffic safety check July 1-31. Police and highway patrolmen will check cars for defects in brakes, lights, horns and windshield wipers. Cars found in a satisfactory condition will be given a windshield sticker. Where defects are found, recommendations for repair will be made and a sticker may be obtained by returning for another check-up.

Joe Greco, Ted Birkeland Too Much For Bruins; Bobzean Hurls First Game

SPRINGFIELD July 1—The Springfield Giants nabbed a doubleheader from Marion's Cubs here last night, 8 to 0 and 6 to 3 The twin wins moved the Giants to within one and one-half games of the league-leading Muncie Reds.

Outstanding mound performances were largely responsible for the Giants victories. Lefty Joe Greco tossed a six-hit shutout to match his 11th triumph of the season and fifth in a row in the opener And Ted Birkeland held the Bruins to four safeties in the nightcap

Springfield hopped on Cub hurler Gene Boozean in the first fray, clubbing the right hander for two runs in the second, four in the third and two in the fifth.

Greco held the Marion outfit in the palm of his hand, scattering six base hits. The strikeout specialist fanned only three last night as against six by Bobzean, who is Marion's regular second baseman.

In the nightcap, a four-run splurge in the fifth sewed up the tilt. Catcher Dan Matthews powered the Giant attack with a two-run homer over the left field wall in this frame.

The Cubs started off with two in the first Bohlander walked and took second when Bobzean looped a Texas leaguer into short left. A fielder's choice then plated Bohlander and Bobzean raced across on King's single to left

Marion registered its final marker in the fifth when Schmitt was hit by a pitched ball and came all the way in when Fulmer muffed Bohlander's drive into left field

By BILL DIEM
Star Sports Editor

THE record books show that new Manager Francis Kristie of the Marion Cubs has an ability the Cubs badly need—the ability to hit in the clutch As a ball club, the Cubs are right near the top in batting averages but they stand sixth in the Ohio-Indiana league Timely hitting would have won many a game for the Bruins and undoubtedly would have put them in the first division. But they failed to hit in the clutch. Kristie's record this year in the Wisconsin State league shows that though he was hitting 286, he batted in 37 runs, which would put him second in the Marion Cubs RBI list. He was at bat only three more times than ex-Manager Zeke Bekesa, 169 to 165, but drove in 11 more runs And though his average wasn't up to Zeke's .303, he hit for more bases, 73 to 69

AND KRISTIE'S fielding average at first base, though not spectacular is a pretty fair .970 which is way above the club average When he was with the St Augustine, Fla Cubs in the Florida State league last year he led the first basemen in fielding. Quite possibly the 12 errors he is charged with were made in the early part of the season.

* * *

THE OHIO-INDIANA league All Star team which will play the club which is leading the league on the morning of July 17 will be picked by the sports writers of the circuit one vote per city Five pitchers, three catchers, four outfielders and an infield with a utility man will be selected on July 10 The All Star game will be played July 27, this year at Muncie, in all probability

WHO'LL BE on the All Star team from Marion? Bill Boldur is a likely choice at left field He's a .330 hitter leads the league in doubles and is right handed batted in He's probably the surest bet Stan King might make it as one of the three catchers, though he hasn't been around long enough to build up a reputation Our Don Schmitt is pretty good at third base, but Muncie's Billy Ford looks better Pete Schnepf as a corner at shortstop but Richmond's Jay Simmons, Newark's Joe Eaboo, Lima's Joe Frasina all are better hitters Gene Bobzean at second, like King, hasn't been around this year, but though he's had a couple of bad nights, he's also looked better than the rest.

IF THE SPORTS scribes around the league had seen Nick Altrovoydic as he looked against Richmond Sunday night, he'd be a sure thing too, but Nick, like all of our pitchers, has had some bad days. He is a nine-game winner however which is in his favor If they had all seen Bob Adkins working against Muncie here June 25, they'd probably put him down on the list even though he lost the 11-inning game 3-2 to a pair of Muncie's best. Ray Trava and Hal Ensley Ray Peet was named one of the top four hurlers in the loop recently by an umpire but didn't have it in two starts last week, beating himself with wildness in the third inning Jim Edgar has looked good and bad.

Americans Fare Badly In British Open Tourney

By The Associated Press

MUIRFIELD, SCOTLAND July 1—America's shotmakers, off to a scrambling start, must show plenty of improvement today if they're to have a chance for the British Open golf championship.

All nine of the United States' hopes ran into stretches of erratic play—mostly on the putting greens—yesterday in the first 18-hole tour of the 72-hole medal test

Lawson Little turned in the top American performance—a 72, three strokes back of the lead—while Frank Stranahan of Toledo O the British amateur winner registered a horrendous 77

George Suiter famous infielder, had a .340 batting average in 2,065 games.

Lemon Turns in First No-Hit, No-Run Game of '48

Only Three Tigers Reach Base, All On Walks, As Cleveland Wins, 2-0

By The Associated Press

DETROIT, July 1—Righthander Bob Lemon, one of the main reasons the Cleveland Indians are leading the American league turned in big time baseball's first no-hit, no-run game of 1948 as he blanked the Tigers 2 to 0 last night.

Only three Detroiters reached base—all via walks—as the 27-year-old twirler threw a baffling assortment of stuff at the Bengals.

Four of them fanned and in the crucial ninth when the Tigers were striving desperately to break Lemon's spell, he really poured it on. The best the Tigers could manage in that inning was two balls dribbled back to the mound for easy putouts. The third batter fanned.

For Lemon, who failed to make the grade with the Indians as a third baseman or an outfielder, the win was the 11th of the season and his fifth shutout. He has lost six games and currently is pushing Bobby Feller for recognition as the No. 1 hurler on the hustling Indians ball club.

48,638 See Masterpiece

A crowd of 48,638 fans saw Lemon turn in his nifty performance and as the game approached its final innings, they were pulling for the Cleveland twirler to complete his no-hitter.

After the final out the Indians crowded around Lemon, pounding him on the back and shouting. Hundreds of fans swarmed onto the field to shake Lemon's hand, but players and police formed a flying wedge and rushed the big pitcher to the safety of the Cleveland dressing room.

Three newsmen began their scores of questions.

I had as good stuff as I ever had and I got wonderful support out there," the Cleveland no-hitter replied. He said he knew right along that he had a no-hitter in his grasp and joked about the way the Indians didn't talk to him from the sixth inning on for fear they would put a jinx on his no-hit aspirations.

Bobby Feller, who has authored a couple of no-hitters himself, was one of the first to shake Lemon's hand and congratulate him on his performance.

Tigers Dejected

The Tigers were a dejected lot as they milled about in their dressing room after nine fruitless innings of swinging at Lemon's stuff.

"That guy pitched a hell of a game," said Bengal Manager Steve O'Neill sadly.

Tiger pitcher Freddie Hutchinson, who made a pinchhitting appearance in the eighth inning said, "that boy had everything—sliders, sailers and sinkers. He was really tough out there."

The Indians, aided by two costly Tiger errors got to Houtteman for both their runs in the initial inning. Lou Boudreau's long double was the big wallop of the inning as he drove in run No. 1 and came home a couple of minutes later after an error and a long fly ball pushed him along.

Lemon's no-hit no-run performance was the first ever achieved in an American league night game. It was the first such pitching accomplishment since Bill McCahan of the Philadelphia Athletics blanked the Washington Senators without a hit Sept. 3, 1947.

HOGAN LEADS FIELD IN MOTOR CITY OPEN

By The Associated Press

DETROIT, July 1—The biggest little man in golf today matched Ben Hogan of Hershey, Pa., who wears both the National Open and PGA crowns, and a field of 120 of the nation's top-ranking linksmen into the opening round of the first Motor City open championship today at Meadowbrook Country club.

Hogan, top money man of the summer tour, loomed squarely as the man to beat as 92 pros and 28 low handicap amateurs set out on the initial 18-hole round of the 72-hole stroke play scramble over Meadowbrook's hilly 6,616-yard par 35-36-71 layout.

At stake in the four-day test, eighteen holes each day, is $115,000 in prizes—$2,600 to the winner, but the most coveted prize of the tournament already is firmly in the hands of slender Marty Furgol, 30-year-old North Hollywood, Calif., pro playing out of Albuquerque, N. M.

Furgol teamed with M. T. Patterson, Detroit amateur, yesterday to win a best-ball pro-amateur feature with an eight under par 33-30-63. He pocketed the keys to a bright yellow convertible priced at $3,600.

Photo-Finish, New Starting Gate, Will Be Used Here

Modern design makes the big difference

There was when the judges of harness racing had to brave the wrath of the crowd on a close one. And false starts were as frequent as Russian vetoes.

But now that's all changed. The photo-finish booth names the horse with the most nose over the wire in a matter of a few minutes, at the most. And the many and varied types of starting gates have greatly reduced false starts and added color to sulky racing.

One of the latest and best starting gates will get the horses off when the Marion Little Grand Circuit harness races open at the fairgrounds next Monday night at 8:15.

This will be the gate devised and operated by Paul Young, official starter for the 18-day meet here. Two long tubular poles which can be extended to cover a spread of 70 feet are mounted on the rear of a new Cadillac car. Young sits in a swivel chair in the rear of the car and does the accelerating while a driver steers and stops.

A loudspeaker on the car permits Young to give running instructions to the drivers as they come up to the gate. The two arms of the gate fold forward as the race gets under way. A huge red floodlight serves as a recall when the start is off.

Of necessity the car has a tremendous pickup. Young must take the car from 20 or 25 miles an hour up to 50 to clear the track for the horses. It is the driver's job to jockey through the outer rail and brake in a stop.

Young claims his type of gate is better than the telescope style where the arms are drawn in. With this style of gate the horses tend to bunch and watch the arms when they pull toward the car, says Young.

PROSPECT LEGION WINS FIFTH STRAIGHT AT HOME

Special to The Star

PROSPECT, July 1. The Prospect American Legion softball team won their fifth straight home game here last night, coming from behind in the seventh inning to win, 8-6, over Baldridge Tires. Merle Fryman struck the winning blow, his seventh-inning single to right field scoring two runners, on base via a walk and a hit.

TROTTER LOOKS BACK

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK — Doc Parshall, veteran harness horse trainer and driver, came out with an innovation in the sulky racing game this season when he equipped his sulky with a rearview mirror so he can keep posted on what's going on behind him without having to look over his shoulder.

LEADS KC TO WIN OVER INDIANAPOLIS

By The Associated Press

Max Marcum, Kansas City's 28-year-old utility infielder, defeated Indianapolis almost single handed last night, batting in seven runs on two successive homers to lead the Blues to an 11 to 7 win over the first-place Indians.

The defeat shoved Indianapolis head over runnerup Milwaukee to 6½ games. The Brewers protected their position by winning the nightcap of a double header from Columbus, 8 to 4, after bowing to the Red Birds, 3 to 1 in the opener.

In other American Association games, St. Paul and Toledo divided a pair. The Mud Hens blanked the Saints, 3 to 0, in the seven-inning opener and St. Paul walloped Toledo 18 to 4 in the second contest. At Louisville, Minneapolis edged out the Colonels 2 to 1.

In the Columbus-Milwaukee opener Clarence Beers outpitched Milwaukee's Ed Wright and the Columbus' hurler's two-bagger started the three run rally in the fifth. Milwaukee scored five runs in the 10th inning of the nightcap off veteran Ira Hutchinson, who allowed four hits and was handicapped by two errors. Al Epperly went the route for Milwaukee in scattering 12 hits.

Joe Neidig Decisions Columbus Opponent in Armory Highlight

By BILL MURPHY

Joe Neidig, 138 pound Byhalia battler, furnished virtually all the class that was furnished at ye old Armory last night, as he proceeded to methodically take apart his Columbus opponent, James Honeycutt, in the feature affair of the show Although outweighed 145 to 138, and giving up a six inch reach advantage Little Joe wrapped up a decision over the colored Columbusite with a fine display of boxing

Joe a nifty little fighter with a terrific wallop could have stood under his opponent's arm it appeared, but that in no way prevented him going under the Columbus lad's guard to score in the in-fighting

The first round of the scrap was about even with Joe perhaps taking an edge for aggressiveness and the second went to the Byhalian when he caught Honeycutt with a hard left to the jaw about midway through the frame and followed with a right to the mid-section for the major blows of the round

The last round was very close but not close enough for Joe to lose the fight. He went down during the course of the melee but it was due more to a hole in the ring carpet than to the lefts that Honeycutt was throwing at that time

About 250 fight fans sat in on the mediocre show, and watched 11 three-round skirmishes that fell far short of arousing their best interest Cat-calls, however, were held to a minimum with the fans indicating that they just wanted to see a boxing show, no matter what

Three exhibition fights by out of town ringmen, between two 14-year-old boys from the Springfield Sportsman's A. C. drew applause in the first round but not in the other two.

Harold Waits, weltered with Bill Eccles of Mansfield in a good fight, but failed to show his old fire of the February Golden Gloves matches and gave up a decision to the Mansfield lad as a result Dick James, 124, showed his old spunk but was not so reckless as usual as he won a decision over Gene Ayers, 126, of the Mansfield boxing stables

Charles Ludwig, 215 of here was ko'd in 1 50 of the second stanza by Verlin White 185, also of Marion Walter Patterson of Springfield decisioned Howard Carney of Mansfield in a 124-pounder in one of the better bouts, and Clo Lane, 129, of Columbus was lucky to take a decision from Elmer Higgins of Springfield in the last fight of the evening

In two other fights, Billy Franklin, 118 decisioned Johnny Waddell of the same weight, and Russell Gorrell, 60, decisioned Morey Franklin, 60, in a paper-weight scrap

Referees for the scraps were Howard Hodges Al Van Poessen and Jimmy Williams. Judges were Connie Miller Dan Matthews and Eddie Simmons

SPRINGFIELD GAINS ON MUNCIE REDS

By The Associated Press

Springfield's Giants gained a game and a half on front-running Muncie last night in the Ohio-Indiana league

The Giants swept a twin bill from Marion 8-0 and 6-3 behind some nifty pitching by southpaw Joe Greco and Ted Birkeland while Muncie went down before Zanesville 5-2 The Dodgers manager, Ray Hathaway stopped the Reds with five hits and struck out nine

Muncie also lost a twilight-night exhibition contest to Cincinnati's Reds 6-3

Muncie still has a game and a half margin over Springfield The Reds have won 38 and lost 22 in league play work Springfield has a 36-23 mark.

Greco the league's strikeout king, notched his 11th win in shutting out Marion in the seven-inning opener at Springfield Birkeland allowed only four hits in the nightcap—two of them in the first inning.

In other games third-place Portsmouth came from behind to nick seventh-place Lima at Portsmouth 4-3 and Newark's fifth-placers took two games from cellar-dwelling Richmond at Richmond, 3-2 and 8-5

Richmond manager Ollie Byers protested the first game claiming Newark dressed 18 men—one over the legal limit Newark's Dick Murphy scored his ninth win against three losses in the opener

Forrest Rane Portsmouth left fielder sent the Lima game into extra innings with a ninth-inning homer with a mate aboard and won it in the 10th with a single John Moore of Portsmouth also homered—in the sixth

Sixth District Softball Tourney Will Be Held on Bucyrus Field

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, July 1 — Hal Clawson, Sixth district commissioner of the Ohio Amateur Softball Association announced today that the district's 1948 tournament would be held at Laons Playground field in Bucyrus beginning Monday, July 26 and continuing through the first two weeks of August

The tournament, which will include play in both women's and men's divisions, will get underway with the first set of women's games on the 26th That phase is expected to last two or three days and immediately thereafter the men's play will begin. The number of nights the men's tournament will last will depend on the number of teams entered A total of 24 men's teams entered the tourney which was held last year at Riverside Park in Mount Vernon The tournament was won by the Ashland Indians and they are expected to defend their title

Clawson has set Monday July 19 as the deadline for filing entries for both the women's and men's tournaments An attempt is being made to contact each manager or team representative in the district and furnish him with entry blanks and rules and regulations governing the tournament.

The Sixth district embraces teams in the counties of Ashland, Crawford Knox Marion, Morrow Richland and Wyandot

Ted Baker of the Colonial Grill here in Bucyrus will be the tournament manager

The men's state amateur softball tournament will be in Youngstown beginning August 27.

OHIO SQUIRREL HUNT DATES ANNOUNCED

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O July 1 — Squirrel hunting season in Ohio will be Sept. 15 to Sept ,30 inclusive, with possession and bag limits remaining the same as last year, the Ohio conservation and natural resources commission announced yesterday

The commission at its meeting set Nov 15 as the tentative date for opening of the trapping season, and a starting hour of 9 a m. It deferred setting the closing date, closing hour and possession and bag limits until a later date when more information is received on population in the fields

Emory Beetham commission member from Cleveland stated that 'we shall set the date of closing when he know what our crop is '

The commission also voted to retain a closed season on Hungarian partridge and skunk throughout the state A closed season on groundhog was voted from March 1 to June 15, to take effect in 1949

Ohio will have an open season on deer this year but the dates and regulations for the season will not be decided until the September meeting of the commission

Possession limit of squirrels will be four, and bag limit four the same as in force last year

Satchel Paige Says He Uses 7 Good Pitches

By The Associated Press

SAN ANTONIO Tex — Satchel Paige the Negro pitcher — still called by many the greatest hurler of all time — will work in about 75 games this year counting both regular season and barnstorming

Satchel now says he's 41 years old, which is a little on the ancient side for baseball But the Satch doesn't look it and he doesn't act it until he has to run.

But all the cunning and the fire still are there in his pitching

Paige here to work in an exhibition game, says he has seven good pitches not counting a slider or an occasional "eephus" He uses a sidearm curve a sidearm sinker sidearm fast ball and four overheads — speedball, curve knuckler and drop

Pitching every night isn't to his liking but he finds it necessary to keep the crowds coming out. Fans want to see the greatest Negro pitcher of the age and he obliges with a stint Observers say he could be throwing as a relief pitcher in the big leagues but can make more money hurling as he does Last season he beat Bob Feller three times out of five

The great Negro player pitched against Feller's All-Stars after the close of the 1947 season and in one game fanned 15 batters. Such fellows as Ken Keltner Stan Musial, Johnny Mize and Ralph Kiner opposed him

Three Arrested By City Police

C W Kaestner 43 of Lorain was arrested by city police at 10 02 p m last night on a charge of reckless driving He posted $25 bond for his appearance in municipal court July 2

At 9 23 p m. last night Leroy Murphy Jr 21, of 160 North State street was arrested on North Main street charged with intoxication and disorderly conduct. He is in city prison

Charged with speeding Everett Francis Milligan 29 of 632 Park street was arrested at 5 02 p m yesterday He posted a $25 bond for his appearance in municipal court tomorrow morning

TODAY'S BIRTHDAY

OLIVIA DE HAVILLAND, born July 1, 1916, almost became a teacher. A screen role changed that. An "Oscar" in 1946 for her work in "Gone with the Wind" was high mark for a life full of color and dash. She is a sister of Joan Fontaine, also an Oscar winner, who uses their step father's name. Their long feud with each other is one of the curiosities of the film colony.

To Spend $18,000 On Rail Flasher Lights

An estimated $18,000 will be spent by the state highway department for installing flasher lights at railroad grade crossings in Marion and Morrow counties it was announced recently by Robert F. Werner, division engineer of the sixth district.

Of the $18,000 total expenditures $16,200 will come from federal aid under authorization of the public roads administration as part of the post war secondary federal aid program

One set of flashers will be erected at the Erie railroad crossing on route 37 one and one half mile north of LaRue in Marion county. A second set will be installed at the New York Central crossing on route 229 at Marengo in Morrow county Plans for the installation are now being completed Werner said
